Hoffa Given 8 Years In Prison, Fined $10,000

PUT $1,000 IN FUND FOR NEW AMBULANCE

Because of a number of ambulance trips to such places as Canada and New York City during the last 10 weeks, the local Ambulance Corps will be able to put another $1,000 into the new ambulance fund, the Gettysburg Fire Department was told at its meeting Wednesday evening in the engine house.

Ambulance Board Secretary Julius Swope said $760.52 was received as a result of the long trips—which at one time had both ambulances involved simultaneously, and Littlestown provided service within Gettysburg. The transfer will bring the new ambulance fund to $7,619.95.

Ambulance Board Chairman Daniel E. Miller and Secretary Swope expressed the appreciation of the board "to the members of the ambulance corps who volunteered in some cases two days of their time to make trips into Canada to return patients to their homes there from our local hospital."

PLAN TRAINING SESSION

It was estimated that the ambulances have made more long trips out of town during the first part of this year than during some entire years of operation.

Swope added: "We need drivers. The more there are the easier it is on everyone." He urged those members of the fire department who are not members of the ambulance corps and wish to join to contact him, Chairman Miller, Ambulance Board members Ivan Breighner and Glenn Raffensperger, or Fire Department President Robert S. Neary. Individual training will be given the new drivers, Swope said.

Swope also announced that the Adams County Ambulance Corps

SCOUT DRIVE NETS $2,650; $7,000 GOAL

Donations so far in the current finance campaign of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District total $2,650, Charles C. Kingston, campaign chairman reported today.

His report, mailed by Kingston to the community chairmen, is the first of four "progress reports" to be issued at two week intervals.

Kingston noted that most of the money turned in so far has come from the special gifts campaign, which provided $2,059.40 of the total.

The remaining $591.30 has been raised in 10 communities. Fairfield canvassers started early and already have raised $150 toward the campaign, Kingston said.

Other communities which have reported so far are Arendtsville, $43; Bendersville, $38.15; Biglerville, $70; Two Taverns, $92.60; Cashtown-McKnightstown, $19.50; Heidlersburg, $19.30; Hunterstown, $45; Mummasburg, $78.75; Orrtanna, $35.

The county-wide campaign is designed to raise $7,000.

Kingston noted that the sum sought "provides the resources for Scouting which no one chartering institution can provide; namely office and field services, technical guidance, training, program materials and year-round camping facilities that enable chartering institutions to effectively utilize the Scouting program."

Minter's Grocery Store Observes 48th Birthday, 48th Anniversary Here

One of the oldest grocery firms in the county is celebrating its 48th year in the same location and 48 years of serving fine kitchens in Adams County.

Minter's Store dates back to 1912 when the late Norris L. Minter moved his confectionery store from Arendtsville to Gettysburg to found the firm which today is continued by his son, a son-in-law and a long-time employe.

Minter's has been a barometer of progress in Adams County since 1912 when Norris Minter's homemade ice cream was synonymous with country auctions, festivals and other social events. He maintained a restaurant and ice cream parlor in Arendtsville for a number of years before moving to Center (now Lincoln) Square in Gettysburg. In 1916 he moved to the corner of Baltimore and E. Middle Sts., where the store has been operated ever since.

SEA FOOD, FRUITS

In the early days at the present location, Minter's was best known as a delicatessen and specialized in large selections of fresh sea food. It also was widely known for ample stocks of fruits and nuts, many of which were sold from barrels that lined the street and entrance of the open-front building.

Norris Minter retired from the Mining Operation In Fairfield Barred

In an effort to discourage potential mining and quarry operations within the borough limits, the Fairfield Borough Council, Tuesday evening at a special meeting adopted an ordinance prohibiting quarrying and mining operation and set a penalty at "not les than $150 nor more than $300, and providing that each day's continuation of a violation of any of the provisions shall constitute a separate offense."

Thomas Newman, president, said that council adopted the measure as a safeguard against possible establishment of quarry operations within borough lines. The ordinance is published in the legal classified section of The Times.

TWO SENIORS ARE AWARDED FELLOWSHIPS

Miss Carol Ann Siemers, West Orange, N. J., and William H. Marshner, Baltimore, of Gettysburg College are among the 1,507 college seniors in the United States and Canada awarded first-year Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, announced today by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, Princeton, N. J.

"Each Woodrow Wilson Fellow is granted full tuition and fees for the first year at the graduate school of his choice, plus a stipend of $1,800 and dependency allowances," Sir Hugh Taylor, foundation president, said in making the announcement.

Miss Siemers, a psychology major, completed her graduation requirements for a bachelor's degree in January. She was a dean's honor list student and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Siemers. She plans to do graduate work in psychology at Indiana University.

APPLIES AT YALE

Marshner, a Greek major, has been a dean's honor list student since enrolling at Gettysburg College and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He plans to specialize in ancient Near East studies and has applied to Yale graduate school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Marshner.

Committees of college professors and deans selected this year's winners from over 11,000 seniors, representing 904 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada. 357 colleges and universities produced the winners.

"The Woodrow Wilson National Foundation, which is dedicated to developing 'college teachers for tomorrow,' is the largest private source of support for advanced studies in the liberal arts in North America," Sir Hugh said. "Our hope is that students elected as Woodrow Wilson Fellows will become college teachers, although the terms of our awards do not bind them to such rigid commitments. We request only that our Fellows seriously consider careers in college teaching."

DIVORCE SUIT DOCKETED

Kenneth E. Patterson, 23, of Gettysburg, has filed a divorce suit in the Franklin County courts, Chambersburg, charging his wife, Rosalie C. Patterson, 20, Waynesboro R. 2, with indignities. They were married in Frederick on November 30, 1960.

ADVANTAGES OF ETV CITED TO SCHOOLMEN

The educational television station that will go on the air at Hershey in September will offer schools in the area a "powerful new tool" for the improvement of classroom instruction, Lloyd Kaiser, general manager for the station, told the Adams County Schoolmen's Association at a postponed meeting Wednesday evening in the Student Union Building at the college.

He emphasized, however, that it will present not only school programs but programs "for all the community" on evenings and weekends. He said in-service training programs will also be offered teachers with college credits.

Kaiser said the Hershey station, which will broadcast on UHF Channel 61 will be linked with a state network of ETV stations and will be able to broadcast programs originating in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and later from Penn State University.

ASK TEACHER EVALUATIONS

Many of the programs produced for original use in the nine-county area to be served by the Hershey station will be put on video tape for later use and many high school programs will be repeated several times weekly so that they will fit into most high school schedules.

He said teachers in participating schools will get advance schedules and study guides so they can prepare for the broadcasts. Postbroadcost evaluations by teachers will be used to decide whether programs will be dropped, repeated or revised, he said.

Asked about plans for summer operation, he said it will depend upon the budget and the wishes of the people served.

"If educational TV offers the best tool to accomplish particular goals in the classroom it should be used," Kaiser said. He spoke of the opportunities for program enrichment, motivation, presenting the unusual and up-to-the minute material through ETV. "It is filling a very important slot in the educational system today," he said as he reported ETV successes at Rochester where he was a program director.

He assured the schoolmen that the state has promised good reception and, where necessary, translators will be erected to assure a good signal.

Charles E. Tressler, Gettysburg High School principal, presided. George B. Inskip, assistant county superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker. Mr. Inskip is a member of the program committee for the ETV project.

START USING FUNDS FROM EASTER SEALS

First returns from the current Easter Seal sale were put to work immediately by directors of the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults at their meeting here Wednesday afternoon when $500 was transferred from the Easter Seal sale fund to the general fund to meet current expenses.

At the same session, the need for a generous response to the current appeal for funds became apparent when state nurses told the directors they have enough crippled youngsters in the county eager to go to summer camp this year to exceed the county's quota for the first time in history.

Last year the society spent a little more than $600 for summer camping for crippled boys and girls from the county. This year, if all the youngsters go who have expressed the hope that they can attend one of the state-operated camps this summer, the cost will be over $1,200.

$1,860 IN SO FAR

The board authorized the state nurses to go ahead with camp plans for the youngsters.

Reports from the treasurer, Mrs. George B. Inskip, Fairfield, showed $1,860.25 already in from seal sales. She said that is slightly below the total for the first 10 days of last year's sale. Persons who did not receive seal letters but wish to contribute may send their donations directly to Mrs. Inskip.

Mrs. Harry F. Biesecker, Cashtown, the Easter Seal chairman, said 6,043 letters were mailed to organizations and individuals throughout the county. She announced plans for a coffee day benefit March 26 and asked for volunteers to help get supplies to cooperating restaurants.

First Snowfall For March Today

Snow that began falling shortly after 6 o'clock this morning had mounted to 3 inches by early afternoon as the wet, heavy flakes continued to fall. State Highway department snowplows were sent out to shove slush accumulations off the highways while the moist flakes clung to trees and wires and threatened to cause damage to utility lines if the fall continues.

This is the first snow in March as a winter nears its close that brought 51.5 inches of snow here up to March 1.

INSKIP CITES NEED HERE FOR JOB TRAINING

The 30 per cent drop out rate in county high schools in the last four years and the half of each graduating class that does not go on for higher education were cited as reasons for an area technical school here in a radio address on WGET at noon today.

The speaker was George B. Inskip, assistant county superintendent of schools. His subject was "The Need and Devolpment of an Area Technical School."

He said in part:

"Our Adams County high schools have been doing an excellent job in preparing our students for college and semiprofessional training. Last June 428 students received their high school diplomas. 109 or 25.4 per cent entered college and 57 or 13.5 per cent entered nursing, technical or business schools and eight per cent entered the armed services. This leaves 47 per cent for the labor market who have no particular skills.

A PARTIAL SOLUTION

"We also should be concerned with the young people who drop out of high school between Ninth Grade and the end of their Senior year. The total enrollment of the last four graduating classes when they were in the Ninth Grade was 2,648 but only 1,760 of these finished high school. 888 of this number or better than 30 per cent dropped out of school between Ninth and 12th Grades for one reason or another. This certainly is a great loss of human resources for it's a well-known fact that earning power increases with knowledge and skill. Education is the key to all economic advancement.

"It would be very foolish for anyone to assume than an area technical school would answer all of our economic and unemployment problems but many states and some counties of Pennsylvania are recognizing this means as a partial solution and an aid to our economic growth and development.

"The comprehensive high school cannot offer the wide variety of vocational and technical courses demanded by the rapid changes of business and industry techniques brought on by automation. Vocational and industrial arts courses now offered in most high schools are only exploratory and not advanced enough to meet the

May Lose Job As President Of Teamsters Labor Union

By BILL RAWLINS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, professing his innocence to the last, was sentenced today to eight years in prison for seeking to tamper with a federal court jury. He was fined in addition a total of $10,000.

U. S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson, who quietly told the stocky labor leader that he had been convicted "of tampering with the very soul of this nation," could have sentenced Hoffa to 10 years in prison. The fine was the maximum under the law.

Three men convicted with Hoffa were each sentenced to three years in prison. They could have been sentenced to five years and fined a total of $5,000 each.

After the sentencing, Hoffa said, "I understand the sentence perfectly and I will make my appeal." The conviction and sentence could mean eventually the loss of Hoffa's job as head of the Teamsters Union.

The judge continued bond for Hoffa and the others, pending appeal, and asked the lawyers to file motions for an appeal within the next 10 days.

TRIED TO BRIBE JURY

In passing sentence, Judge Wilson told Hoffa:

"The feeling of the court is that the verdict is clearly supported by the evidence and that you knowingly and corruptly attempted to bribe a jury.

"You stand here convicted of corrupting the administration of justice, of having struck at the foundation of this nation. Without fair, lawful administration of justice there would be no civilization in this country."

Hoffa told newsmen that he would appeal the sentence.

"I have lived my life (51 years) serving man and the members of the international (Teamsters) union. None can say I have betrayed my trust. I am not guilty. I believe this will be substantiated when the evidence is ultimately considered cooly and calmly."

3 OTHERS GUILTY

"If Jimmy Hoffa goes to jail, something will have to be done" about the union presidency, Charles Bell, president of the Washington Joint Conference of Teamsters, said Wednesday. When newsmen asked if this means Hoffa could not run the 1.7-million-member union from jail, Bell replied, "I know damn well he can't."

Hoffa and three others were convicted March 4 of trying to fix the jury which couldn't agree on a verdict in Hoffa's 1962 federal trial at Nashville on a conspiracy charge. The conviction was Hoffa's first in four federal trials.

SEEK NEW TRIALS

Convicted with him were Ewing King, former Nashville Teamsters president; Larry Campbell, Detroit Teamsters business agent; and Campbell's uncle, Thomas Parks, a Nashville handyman.

3 Americans Shot Down Over East Germany Are Reported Alive By Nurse

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Three American fliers shot down over Communist East Germany are reported alive. The United States is trying to get them back and denies a Soviet charge that they were spying.

A nurse at a hospital in Gardelegen, East Germany, said the three officers aboard the jet bomber—which the Soviet Union admitted shooting down — survived and one was brought to the hospital Tuesday night.

"He wasn't hurt much," she said by telephone Wednesday. "He joined his other comrades."

FORMAL PROTESTS

The nurse declined to say who took the pilot away. She said she did not know his name.

The three Americans are Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit.

The United States and the Soviet Union exchanged formal protests over the incident in which the RB66B reconnaissance bomber was shot down 30 miles inside East Germany Tuesday. The crewmen parachuted.

A Soviet note handed to U.S. Charge D'Affaires Walter G. Stoessel in Moscow charged that the American plane was on a spying mission. The note admitted a Soviet fighter brought it down and warned that any other North American Treaty Organization planes penetrating Communist air space also would be attacked.

The Soviets rebuffed efforts of U.S. diplomats to learn the fate of the three fliers and made no immediate reply to a U.S. request that the crewmen and the wreckage of the plane be returned.

DENY SPY CHARGE

U.S. officials denied the spy charge and insisted the plane was on a routine training flight with orders to stay away from the Iron Curtain frontier. The United States coupled an apology with the protest.

The Soviet note claimed that "special reconnaissance equipment for aerial photography and radiotechnical reconnaissance" was found in the wreckage of the twin-engine, high-altitude bomber.

Parts Of Harrisburg And Nearby Towns Inundated By Worst Flood In 99 Years

HARRISBURG (AP) — Surging waters of the usually serene Susquehanna River swirled through low-lying sections of Harrisburg and its west shore suburbs today.

The river crested early this morning at 22 feet (5 feet above flood stage), signaling the beginning of the end of this city's fifth worst flood in 99 years. In its wake 100 families were temporarily homeless, scores of businesses and industries were shut down, some schools were closed, sections of highways and approaches to bridges were inundated.

REVIEWS AREA

Gov. Scranton prepared to board a helicopter to review the flood situation in the Harrisburg area. Accompanying him were his executive secretary, William G. Murphy, and a representative of the State Civil Defense Office.

As residents of the capital city scrambled to high ground, stricken communities along the upper reaches of the river kept a vigilant eye on receding waters.

9,200 SEEK SHELTER

Cresting occurred Wednesday at Wilkes-Barre, Bloomsburg, Danville, Sunbury, Williamsport and Milton. The 30-foot crest at Wilkes-Barre was 13 feet above flood stage, causing more than 80 families in the area to flee.

PLAN TO GIVE RUBY CASE TO JURY FRIDAY

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Attorneys for both sides say they expect to put Jack Ruby's fate in the hands of the jury Friday—the 13th.

The lawyers agreed that testimony will be completed today. Ruby has not taken the witness stand. There are no indications that he will.

As the end of the trial neared, Ruby appeared much the same as he has from the beginning. At times, he looks worried; at other times, his face is a mask.

In the last few days, his lawyers have been talking more frequently with him, putting an arm around his shoulders, patting his hand.

Ruby is charged with murder with malice in the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy. The state demands that Ruby be sentenced to die in the electric chair. His defense is temporary insanity.

Because of this plea, his lawyers must prove that he did not know right from wrong nor the nature and quality of his act when he killed Oswald.

Prosecution lawyers contend he did know what he was doing. They have suggested to the jury of eight men and four women that Ruby had some purpose, such as "gaining fame and fortune."

Weights — and contradictory — psychiatric testimony has been given for both sides by specialists.

Wednesday the prosecution called a parade of psychiatric experts to discuss Ruby's mental condition, the meaning of the so-called abnormalities on encephalograms — tracings of brain waves—taken when Ruby was examined, and the critical question of whether he was legally sane on Sunday, Nov. 24, when he shot Oswald.

needs of industry. Our young people need salable skills based upon modern technology. These skills could be best supplied by an area technical high school.

CONTINUE STUDIES

"This school would provide technical training in many curriculum areas such as metal trades, business practice, sales and distribution, agriculture, printing, technical occupations, drafting, design, automotive mechanics, building construction, electrical construction, health service, food service, cosmetology and in areas related to community needs. Pupils would start a technical program in Grades 10, 11 or 12 depending on the amount of instruction required by the occupation in which they desire to train.

"Pupils would continue their academic studies in the local high schol retaining membership and would graduate from their home high school. They would take part in the extra curricula activities, such as sports, band, dramatics and other activities related to their high school. The equivalent of 15 hours per week would be spent in the area technical school which might be on a half-day basis or one week in the technical high school and one week in their home high school. This division of time would vary to suit local needs and local schedules.

RE-TRAINING TOO

"This schol would not only provide training for students in school but would be organized to provide training for adults. Retraining programs would be a very important function of this school, upgrading present jobs and training for new types of work as automation changes ways of industry and techniques. Building for these schools are of factory type construction, therefore, costing less to erect, operate and maintain. Such buildings also would assist pupils to become familiar with an atmosphere similar to industry.

How is Pennsylvania going to meet Pennsylvania's technical needs has been a question plaguing educators, industrialist and government leaders, during the last decade. The General Assembly passed legislation in 1953 authorizing the establishment of area technical schools.

GOOD FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

"The County School Board is mandated by recent legislation to review, plan, prepare and submit to the State Board for Vocational Education, by January, 1965, a proposal for arranging all school districts of the third and fourth class of the county into one or more area vocational - technical school attendance areas.

"Preliminary surveys of potential enrollment for an Area Technical School for Adams County high school students would indicate there is a possibility that we could meet the minimum requirements of ten units or 500 pupils. The county school office will work out an occupational interest survey with the guidance counselors in the near future to determine the interest of the high school youth.

"My limited time will not permit me to discuss the financing of this program but recent federal and state legislation provide a very favorable outlook for vocational programs."

DEMAND LODGE MAKE RACE OR TAKE SELF OUT

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Republicans on Capitol Hill say Henry Cabot Lodge ought to come home and campaign or else declare himself out of the GOP presidential race.

This was the predominant view of Republican senators as they appraised the ambassador's upset victory in Tuesday's New Hampshire presidential preference primary.

Lodge, who has said he is not a candidate because of foreign service regulations, won the New Hampshire preference on a write-in campaign while he was at his post in South Viet Nam.

ISSUE CHALLENGE

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who stumped New Hampshire hard and finished second and third to Lodge, have challenged him to return and fight for the nomination.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who finished a distant fifth, wondered out loud how long Lodge could "remain a member of the Johnson administration and also remain as President Johnson's most likely Republican opponent for the presidency."

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., one of Goldwater's campaign advisers, said, "Lodge should declare himself. He either should say he is not a candidate or resign his ambassadorship and come back and debate the issues."

"FISH, CUT BAIT"

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a supporter of Mrs. Smith, said he figured the New Hampshire results place Lodge in a position where "he has got to fish or cut bait, before very long. A man can't support the administration and be running against it at the same time."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., voiced a belief that Lodge will stay at his critical post in Saigon "as long as he feels he can do the job and the President wants him to remain."

Saltonstall made clear he will support Lodge if he becomes a candidate and expressed belief that a Lodge candidacy would be backed strongly by the Massachusetts delegation.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee and an avowed neutral at this point, said, "I would think that very soon Lodge will have to completely disassociate himself from any ambitions along this line, or declare that he does have these ambitions."

FRANK HOWARD WILL RETIRE FROM MAJORS

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Outfielder Frank Howard, the Los Angeles Dodgers' leading home run hitter, announced today he is quitting baseball.

He revealed his decision in a letter to General Manager Buzzie Bavasi. Howard said he was acting with deep regret.

"I have found that money is not the cure to all ills," he wrote.

Howard lives in Green Bay, Wis., and had been excused from the first 11 days of spring practice, explaining that he had personal problems that needed attending.

Howard told a sports writer some time ago that the possibility of quitting already was in his mind.

At the time the $108,000 bonus player said: "Nothing means as much to me as my woman and our children. If my woman ever told me she wanted me to quit baseball, I'd quit."

Bavasi said he would not place Howard on the voluntary retired list at this time. "I want to give him every chance to change his mind."

He will phone Howard Friday, Bavasi said.

Howard signed a bonus contract with the Dodgers in 1958 after graduating from Ohio State.

He had been the team's top slugger for several seasons. He hit 28 home runs last year, 31 in 1962 and had 99 since joining the club in 1960.

He had been told by the front office all winter that he would become a regular in right field this season. The 6-foot-7 240-pounder complained last season because he rode the bench almost until July.

SPORTSMEN TO STOCK CREEKS ON SATURDAY

The Adams County Fish and Game Association today announced plans to place 7,500 trout in streams of the county Saturday.

The public "and all members" are asked to participate in the operation by which fish raised in the association's hatchery, near Orrtanna, will be moved to areas throughout the county. Those who wish to participate are asked to bring a clean bucket and boots.

President Clark Spence said the stocking will begin at 7 a.m. Saturday at the hatchery along the Jack Rd. Those not certain of the location should meet the fish truck at King's Store in Orrtanna.

SUCCESSFUL PROJECT

Present plans call for the first fish to be placed in the Conewago Creek above Arendtsville, and then the work will proceed along that stream to various other streams throughout the county area.

Members reported the club has been "most successful in this, their first attempt to raise trout to help supplement the trout placed in our streams by the state. This is hoped to be an annual project which will guarantee better fishing in our county's streams." Plans also call for additional stocking during the season.

President Spence said the association "wishes to thank all the members and the public generally who helped to support this program." A number of coin donation jars were placed in the county and some of the amount needed to raise the fish came from donations placed in those jars during the winter months.

LILLIAN REIS TRIAL RESUMES IN POTTSVILLE

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The much postponed second trial of Lillian Reis on charges of masterminding a bizarre burglary got underway today in Schuylkill County Court. The first juror was called for examination at 10:20 a.m.

Only about 30 spectators were in the courtroom, many persons apparently thinking there would be another delay.

WEARS NECK BRACE

Miss Reis, a shapely brunette who once danced in a chorus line and then became a Philadelphia nightclub owner, appeared in court wearing a neck brace, a yellow blouse, a mustard colored sleeveless sweater and a brown skirt. Miss Reis began wearing the neck brace after a short stay in a Philadelphia psychiatric home to reduce pressure.

Ironically, Capt. Clarence J. Ferguson, a defense witness in the case, also was wearing a neck brace as the result of an accident some time ago.

Calvin J. Friedberg, assistant Schuylkill County district attorney, was the prosecutor.

PHILADELPHIA LAWYER

Miss Reis was represented by one attorney, Robert Semone, of Philadelphia. Semone was admitted to the Schuylkill County Bar for the trial.

Presiding was Judge Charles W. Staudenmeier.

Previous delays in the retrial were caused by her confinement to the psychiatric home and the illness of John B. Rich, Pottsville coal baron.

Miss Reis is accused of masterminding a burglary at the Rich home in 1959. Police have said the loot totaled more than $178,000. Rich has said it amounted to only $20,000 in cash and jewelry.

Miss Reis' first trial ended in a hung jury.

Three men have been convicted in the burglary but have appealed. Two brothers connected with the case, one of them a defendant, were murdered, according to police accounts.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Proposed revision of the state unemployment compensation law threatens to put more than 16,000 small store owners out of business, a union leader contended Wednesday.

Ralph B. Reuter, administrative assistant of the International Ladies' Garment Workers, said in a statement changes proposed by the Scranton Administration would hurt many grocers, bakers, butchers and other small storekeepers.

He said their businesses would be ruined because "thousands upon thousands of unemployed workers will not have the money to buy even the essentials they and their families need."

EFFORTS FAIL TO EASE RIFT WITH CAMBODIA

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Efforts to patch the growing gulf between Cambodia and the Western world have hit one disastrous snag after another. There seems little hope that the latest crisis can be overcome.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the erratic ruler of Cambodia, has sent official apologies for the sacking of the American and British embassies in Phnom Penh Wednesday. But he added that he sympathized with the crowds for their "anger with the imperialists."

PLANNED RIOT

Reports from Phnom Penh showed the riot was well planned.

The reasons for calling the riot are not clear.

Perhaps Sihanouk meant it to coincide with U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's trip to Saigon. Perhaps it was to protest several recent incidents in which South Vietnamese troops fought Viet Cong guerrillas on the Cambodian frontier. Reliable sources in Saigon have reported that Vietnamese air force planes chased a Viet Cong unit across the border last week, heavily straffing the guerrillas.

DIRECT SUPPLY ROUTE

Cambodia is the geographic keystone of the Indochina peninsula, a supply route from North Viet Nam and Laos to the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam, a potential corridor for similar infiltration into Thailand. If Sihanouk invited Communist Chinese forces in, they would split the peninsula down the middle.

Because of this, American policy has aimed at keeping Cambodia neutral.

NO LONGER NEUTRAL

Little doubt remains that the rich little country can no longer be classified as neutralist.

Sihanouk has said repeatedly he thinks American influence in Asia is waning rapidly and is doomed to defeat. Communist China represents the "wave of the future," he says.

The Communist bloc denounced Ngo Dinh Diem, the late president of South Viet Nam as the "lackey of the imperialist Americans." Sihanouk called Diem "a dictator who will not be satisfied until he has gobbled up Cambodia."

A few days after Diem was killed, Sihanouk announced that he was through with American economic and military aid.

Sihanouk repeatedly challenged Washington to break relations, but the United States refused to take the bait.

SUNKEN SHIP NOT ESSENTIAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has decided that the USS Harvest Moon "is not essential to the defenses of the United States."

As a matter of fact, the Harvest Moon hasn't been essential for about 100 years—since a home-made Confederate mine sank it near Georgetown, S.C.

Somehow, the Navy never got around to ending its legal ownership of the flagship until divers re-discovered the hulk under a covering of mud last year and a group requested permission to salvage relics of the wreck for historical purposes.

Vice Adm. John Sylvester, deputy chief of naval operations for logistics, has taken action to release claim to the ship, in view of salvage efforts by the group, Southern Explorations Association, Inc.

He recommended to Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze the issuance of a "declaration of abandonment," saying the Navy no longer has an interest in the ship except for historical reasons and that the Harvest Moon cannot be considered essential.

COUNTIANS TO VISIT IN OHIO

Adams County's livestock farmers are planning a three-day visit to Sandusky County, Ohio, Associate County Agent Joseph F. Lutz said today.

The visit will return a tour made here last summer by livestock producers of the Ohio county lying southeast of Toledo.

Cost of transportation will be $14 per person. The men and their wives will travel in a 40-passenger bus. Each person will purchase his own meals, Lutz said, and will pay for his own lodging the first night of the trip. On the second night the countians will be guests at the homes of the Sandusky County livestock breeders.

The tour will leave Gettysburg April 1 for Fremont, Ohio, where the group will stay overnight at a hotel.

On April 2 the group will view five beef cattle feeding operations, a hog feeding operation, a dairy, a fruit farm, and will visit the Whirlpool washer corporation.

Friday, April 3, the group will return to Gettysburg.

Members of the tour committee include Crowell Bucher, Gettysburg R. D.; Francis Weikert, Fairfield R. D., and Horace Frey, Abbottstown R. D.

Contrary to popular belief, the bloodhound doesn't follow a trail sniffing the ground and emitting eerie howls. It runs without baying, having been trained to silence to avoid warning fugitives or frightening lost children.

Native Of Gettysburg, Named After Newspaper, Called Dean Of Newsmen

The Martinsburg, W. Va., Journal paid tribute recently in an editorial to a "Son of Gettysburg." He is Clifton Star Musser, son of the late Charles Edward and Amanda Musser and was named "Star" because his father was a printer employed for many years by The Gettysburg Star.

Clifton Musser was born in Gettysburg August 5, 1878. His father was known as one of the leading artistic printers of his day and won several international and national awards conducted by The Inland Printer.

The editorial follows in full:

"'Dean' of State's Newsmen

"A few days ago while attending a press meeting at Shepherd College we ran into Mr. Clifton S. Musser, now 85 years young and at that age without doubt the 'dean' of all West Virginia active newspapermen.

79 YEARS SERVICE

"Actually, Mr. Musser has been associated with newspapers some 79 years, starting as a newsboy at the age of six back in Gettysburg, Pa. Since 1906, some 58 years ago, he has been owner and publisher of The Independent, Shepherdstown's weekly newspaper. On that basis we believe he is also the 'dean' of active newspaper publishers in West Virginia and probably one of the oldest in the nation in point of continuous service.

"Like most of the old time newspapermen, Mr. Musser came up through the ranks in learning his trade. After newsboy service, he served as an apprentice printer and then a journeyman, for many years holding a card in the International Typographical Union.

INTREPID TYPE

"He has always been what might be called the intrepid type. Not only has he operated a newspaper in the small community of Shepherdstown since 1906 but he also dared to do this as a Republican in Jefferson County which has always prided itself in its strongly Democratic party allegiance. That he has survived both of these obstacles indicates the tenacity of the gentleman.

"For the past year or so he has not been in the best of health but has continued to see that his newspaper gets out on time, with the help of his two sons. Although he had been confined to his home and office for the past couple of months, he was like an old fire horse in getting to Shepherd College Thursday to actively cover the press conference.

"We have always had the highest admiration for Mr. Musser and hope he will be publishing his interesting newspaper for at least another couple of decades."

Rotary Official Lauds Work Of Times Reporter: The 5,000-word history of the Gettysburg Rotary club, written recently by G. Henry Roth of The Gettysburg Times editorial staff upon the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the local service club, has won special praise from District Governor Albert S. Schmidt of Harrisburg.

A letter from District Governor Schmidt, addressed to Dr. Frederick Tilberg as president of the club and read at club dinner session Monday evening, referred to the history in these words:

"Many clubs have sent me a history of their organization and I must say I have enjoyed reading all of them.

"However, I've never seen a finer one than Henry Roth's. It is one of the finest I've ever read. It gives so much excellent background material."

The history will earn for the local club one "cog" on its service wheel for the current club year.

Mr. Roth represents the newspaper profession in the local club.

Today's Talk

SMALL BEGINNINGS

None of us should ever look down upon small beginnings. All great things have their origin thus. And each has a story all its own, but running through each is that inspiring record essential to all enduring enterprises — will, courage, patience, vision, initiative, and always — one increasing purpose.

The origin of things is always interesting. To know about them is to increase our interest and give us encouragement. In the memory of most of us in middle life are the many great dedelopments of the fairly recent past, in which refrigeration, telephone, automobile, electric light, radio, TV and jet plane have come forward and become a vital part of the civilization of the world. Behind each has been its small beginning.

Pasteur had his small beginnings, and he was laughed at and derided, but his faith held him strong, and his courage overcame all obstacles. Today all the world knows his memory and his superb character; and it blesses him for his contribution to the saving of the lives of mothers and children — a really great world benefactor.

It never pays to discourage a small beginning on the part of anyone. Especially should the ideas and dreams of the child be encouraged. We never know what is hidden within the mind and personality of that undeveloped brain. Perhaps an Edison, a Ford, a Betthoven, or a Keats sleeps there!

Benjamin Franklin was but one in a large family. But no one suspected that in that mind slept the germinating seeds and the glory of a free nation. All his beginnings were small — but how large they all now loom in the pages of history! His mind gathered ideas, and then he set them to work in the minds of others. He instilled himself into his time and into all time, so that his story is an inspiration now as it will be long years ahead.

Every step is a small beginning. Later it becomes a stride, or a run. A small beginning is always essential, but not small plans!

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

THE FIELD OF BLOOD

Realizing at last the enormity of his crime, Judas returned to the temple with the 30 pieces of silver and tried to give them back to the chief priests.

"I have sinned and betrayed innocent blood," he confessed.

When the chief priests refused to hear him out, he flung the pieces of silver into the temple, then, in despair, went out and hanged himself.

The chief priests were at a loss what to do with the money, arguing among themselves that "it is not lawful to put them into the treasury, seeing that it is the price of blood." Finally they used it to buy the potter's field as a burial place for criminals and strangers. To this day, the field is still called "Haceldama," which means "the field of blood."

Just Folks

REAL PEOPLE

The backbone of the nation is the happy-hearted throng
Or ordinary people who go swinging right along.
They live in modest houses and they work from day to day
And the papers never notice what they do or what they say,
For they're always keeping busy at life's commonplace affairs.
Planning futures for their children and what golden dreams are theirs!

They are settled in their habits and their views of wrong and right.
They are simple folk and friendly and they're often home at night.
They keep little backyard gardens and the mothers stitch and sew,
And the fathers all are saving for some joy they want to know.
They deal with hurt and sorrow with a faith they've learned to hold,
And they're patient with their children and they're mindful of the old.

They are honest with their neighbors, and they're honest in their play,
They are fond of mirth and music in a simple sort of way.
They believe in God and serve Him, and you'll notice as a rule
They always send their children to a nearby Sunday School;
And in spite of all the sneering of the scornful or the base,
The simple, sturdy people are the backbone of the race.

WATER SUPPLY ADEQUATE FOR RIVER TOWNS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Health Department says all communities hit by flood along the Susquehanna and Allegheny Rivers are receiving adequate water.

In some cases however, towns were forced to resort to alternative sources of supply because either the regular sources were flooded out or transmission mains were broken.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, secretary of health, said Wednesday sanitary engineers would continue to work with local authorities to assure there will be no cessation in providing safe water.

MAIN LINE BROKEN

Wilbar listed the following situations in various communities hit by floods:

Towanda — A break in the transmission main from Satterlee Run and Eilenberger Spring was caused by flood waters. Well supplies turned into the transmission system prevented interruption of service.

Muncy—Wells near the river were flooded and the pumps from the wells to a standpipe were shot off. Upland sources, which had been turbid earlier in the week, cleared Wednesday and were used as source of supply.

USE UPLAND SOURCES

Montoursville—Upland sources were used after wells along the river became flooded.

Beech Creek — Transmission main was broken Tuesday at the creek crossing. A temporary connection was made to span the break. The community was advised by sanitary engineers to boil the tap water until a chlorine residual at the tap was found.

Kittanning, Freeport, Sharon, and New Castle—Rising waters threatened for a time to affect the water works supplying these communities, but the threat appeared to have passed.

Beaver Falls — River water flowed into the clear well at the water works necessitating the shutdown of the New Brighton plant. However, the second plant serving the community was resorted to and is adequate for needs.

West View Water Co., on Davis Island, Allegheny County — Wells flooded, necessitating a switch to wells at a higher elevation. Sanitary engineers checking disinfection to make certain of the safety of the supply before the normal well sources are put back into operation, probably in a few days.

Danville — The North Branch of the Susquehanna River crested within a foot of the water works.

Kennel Show Will Be Held Saturday

HARRISBURG — The Harrisburg Kennel Club's all-breed dog show and obedience trial to be held Saturday at the State Farm Show Building drew a booming entry of 1,615 dogs. President Wilhelm J. Mehring said the entry, the largest in the club's 29-year-old history, is 138 dogs over last year's total.

The annual show sponsored by the club will include specimens of 98 breeds or varieties of breeds. Heading the entry list is the popular Collie with 112 entries, followed by the three varieties of Poodles with 81. German Shepherds drew 76 and Doberman Pinschers 64.

Mehring said the show will open at 9 a.m. and judging of the various breeds and obedience classes will commence at 10 o'clock.

Hartman, Mrs. Glenn W. Heckman, Mrs. David Pitzer, Mrs. Carl Taylor and Mrs. Robert E. Thompson, all of the Biglerville area. Misses Peggy Hartman and Nancy Heckman also served as junior hostesses.

In addition to the guest of honor, Mr. Toggas, special guests included the junior varsity and the junior high school wrestling coaches, respectively, and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Smith, Gettysburg; and Mr. and Mrs. John Emanuel, Biglerville, as well as the team's official scorer and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cover, Biglerville. Also present were Mrs. John Toggas and son, Johnny Steve, and Steven Svarnas. Other guests in attendance were parents of team members: Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bosserman, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dixon, Mrs. Harry Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Heckman, and Mrs. David Pitzer, all of the Biglerville area.

SQUAD MEMBERS PRESENT

Members of the varsity squad who were present were: Jeff Cline, Bill Gardner, Fred Hartman, Don Heckman and Mike Thompson, all seniors, and the following underclassmen, Jim Bosserman, Bob Cover, Greg Dixon, Danny Eisenhart, Barry Jacoby, Mike Kane, John Pitzer, Don Taylor, Ed Taylor and Terry Taylor. Members who were unable to attend were Tommy Thompson, senior, and underclassmen Mel Mentzer, Stan Gochenour and John Weaver. The cheerleaders were also unable to attend.

After the supper a surprise birthday cake was presented to Jim Bosserman by his parents in observance of his 16th birthday.

The team then presented Mr. and Mrs. Toggas with a gift, a coffeemaker. The squad also honored the coach's son, Johnny Steve, better known as "Moccu," with a boxed assortment of Easter candies.

Following the presentations, a film made in the Biglerville area several years ago, "For Good or Evil," was shown.

MAKE PLANS FOR CIRCUS

Plans for the annual Zembo Temple Shrine Circus were outlined at a dinner meeting of the Adams County Shrine Club Wednesday evening at the Elks home, York St. The circus will be held the week of April 6 in the Farm Show Arena, Harrisburg.

J. Herbert Raymond, chief rabban, introduced Harrisburg Shriners Roy R. Allsopp, high priest and prophet; Arthur Huber, oriental guide; Richard D. Wampler, past potentate and chairman of the circus committee; Samuel D. Wilson, novelties, and Potentate Aides Charles Wahl and Henry Ford, all of Harrisburg, who reviewed the circus program.

As an added attraction this year, James Drury, star of "The Virginian," will appear at each of the five matinees and six nightly performances with the Hammond-Morton Circus. A special program will be presented Saturday morning, April 11, for underprivileged and crippled children in the nine-county district. Children from Hoffman and Paradise Homes in Adams County will be among the guests. Proceeds from the circus support the Zembo Temple Activities and Crippled Children's Fund.

More than 100 local Shrine members attended the meeting. John E. Hostetter is president of the county club.

The group also saw a state safety council film which was presented by an assistant in the office of H. Earl Pitzer, assistant director of highway safety, Harrisburg.

ROME FANS BOO GRIFFITH IN DULL BOUT

By PIERO doGARZAROLLI
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—The boos of the sans still rang in welterweight champion Emile Griffith's ears today as he declared "I shall never again fight in Italy."

This apparently won't make the Roman fight fans as mad as the drab no decision affair involving the New Yorker and Argentina's Juan Carlos Duran Wednesday night in the beautiful, high-domed Sports Palace.

Irate fans in the crowd of 12,000 brought a sudden end to the scheduled 10-round nontitle bout in the seventh round when they littered the ring with bottles, oranges, shoes and garbage in protest of the dull cat-and-mouse bout. At times some fans yelled "Fix."

POLICE PROTECTION

There was so much junk in the ring that referee Fernando Pica couldn't kick it all out. Then Pica, who had warned both fighters several times to show some life and throw more punches, stopped to consult with the three judges.

They decided to end the bout because of "the intemperance of the crowd."

Police swarmed into the ring to protect the fighters and escort them to their dressing rooms.

The boxers probably will get their purses since the decision to suspend the bout was based on the crowd's conduct rather than on the lack of action.

Griffith, who chased the evasive Argentine most of the way, was leading on The Associated Press scorecard, four rounds to one, with one even.

NIT TOURNEY OPENS TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Miami, the nation's highest-scoring major college basketball team, and NYU, one of the biggest disappointments of the season, help get the 27th annual National Invitation Tournament under way tonight.

Miami, averaging 96.1 points a game, battles St. Joseph's in the first game while NYU takes on Syracuse in the second.

Rick Barry, a 6-foot-7 junior, led the Hurricanes to their big average and their 20-6 record as well as their fourth postseason tournament in five years. He has scored 32.1 points a game, fifth best among major college players.

NYU had been expected to be one of the nation's top teams this season with Barry Kramer and Harold Hairston back for their last year. The Violets, though, surprised everyone by losing eight of their 23 games, including two to unheralded Wagner and Rider.

OK Franklin Co. Technical School

A formal application for permission to establish a vocational-technical high school to serve all of Franklin County, together with an area embraced by the Shippensburg Area and Joint School System in Cumberland County, is expected to be in the hands of State school officials in Harrisburg by the end of the week.

Preparation of the application got under way Wednesday in the office of the Franklin County superintendent of schools, James K. Gibboney, in the wake of unanimous endorsement of the proposal at a special convention of Franklin County directors Tuesday night in Chambersburg.

Directors from 23 school districts in the two-county area attended the convention meeting called by the county school board for the purpose of considering the vocational - technical high school proposal.

Once state approval is received, directors of the districts involved will set about the task of determining the school's location, its curriculum, its construction and method of financing.

GHS Cagers Will Attend Pro Game

Gettysburg High School's varsity basketball squad members will be the guests of the Booster Club at the Baltimore Bullets-Boston Celtics professional basketball game next Wednesday evening at the Civic Center in Baltimore.

Fourteen players, two coaches and the two student managers will be included.

A number of directors of the Booster Club, all of whom will pay for their own tickets, will accompany the squad.

The bus will leave from Minter's Store, Baltimore and E. Middle Sts., Wednesday at 6 o'clock.

SELL TOWELS TO HELP U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Buy a towel and help beat the Russians in the Olympics.

This is an appeal which should stir every red-blooded American. Coming from pretty Carol Heiss Jenkins of Akron, Ohio, it becomes almost irresistible.

She is the baker's daughter from Ozone Park, N.Y., who rose to be the greatest woman figure skater in the world and queen of the Olympics. Her only interest in towels at the moment lies in how much they can benefit Uncle Sam and the Olympic effort.

ONE MEANS TRIED

"Anything we can do for our Olympic teams at this time is very important," she said today as she draped a dozen of the red, white and blue items around her shapely shoulders. "We are being challenged as the world's outstanding sports nation. We need all the money we can get."

The towels are one of the many means being used to finance the U.S. Olympic drive, currently being pointed to the Summer Games at Tokyo Oct. 10-24 where the big opposition will come from the nationally subsidized athletes of the Soviet Union.

The huge towels, color of Old Glory and bearing the Olympic torch, have been placed in the nation's department stores. For every one that's sold for $3.95, a buck goes into the Olympic treasury.

"IT'S OUR WAY"

"This may seem like a silly way to help pay for Olympic expenses," Carol said. "But it is our way to keep our teams free from government control. We are wholly dependent on contributions and campaigns such as this, because we are true amateurs.

"If we are to remain strong and stand off the Russians, who are getting better every year, we must have money to pay for special training and to send teams abroad."

Mrs. Jenkins, 24, a brown-eyed, honey-haired blonde who spurned lavish television and movie offers in marrying another Olympic figure skating champion, Hayes Alan Jenkins, has just returned from the Winter Games at Innsbruck where she served as a television commentator.

REDS, BISONS PLAY TO TIE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Providence Reds, fighting for every point in their bid to nail an American Hockey League playoff spot, got good mileage out of a single goal Wednesday night.

The Reds took a tighter grip on the la tps yaloftiofiiosnpn on the last playoff position in the Eastern Division by gaining a 1-1 overtime draw at Buffalo. The tie, coupled with Baltimore's 4-1 loss to Rochester, gave the third place Reds a three - point spread over the Clippers.

Ed Mazur's goal put Providence in front 1-0 midway through the final period but Buffalo's Billy Dea evened the score four minutes later. The Reds failed to capitalize on a two-man advantage for nearly two minutes late in the period but were happy to settle for the foreign ice deadlock.

KALINE TURNS TO PITCHING FOR CONDITION

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Al Kaline, Detroit's No. 1 hitter, has turned to pitching.

It's the first step in a conditioning program aimed at strengthening a weak right arm and guaranteeing a quick getaway when the baseball season opens.

"When I was younger," said the 29-year-old outfielder after a workout at the Tigers' training base, "I never had any trouble. But in recent years I've been running into problems with my arm, and I've had to ease up on my swing. It's kept me from getting off to a good start.

"LIKE A PITCHER"

"So, I've been working out just like a pitcher — throwing, catching, running."

Kaline, who challenged for the American League batting title last year and finished with a .312 average, also has been doing exercises on a roller-type system of equipment designed to build up his right knee.

"It's a Mantle-type thing," said Kaline, who agreed he could have suffered serious damage when he banged against a wall during a game at Los Angeles last July. Mantle broke his leg in a similar accident at Baltimore last season. Kaline pulled a ligament.

WOUND UP ON BENCH

"It popped as I hit the wall," Kaline explained, "and for a while it was gimpy. Sometimes when I put a lot of pressure on it, it would buckle. I played on it for about 2½ months. Then I went into a nose dive, and by the last two weeks of the season, I had to sit on the bench."

The nose dive cost Kaline an opportunity to win the batting championship for the first time since 1955 when he was in his third year with the Tigers.

It also sent him off to Mayo Clinic for a complete physical and a lengthy rest period.

WARRIORS EYE DIVISION TITLE

If the San Francisco Warriors, late of Philadelphia, hang up their first National Basketball Association sectional championship since moving West two years ago, they'll owe a debt of gratitude to their Quaker City successors.

The crippled Philadelphia 76ers knocked off the St. Louis Hawks 124-111 Wednesday night and dealt the Hawks' Western Division title hopes a near-fatal blow. St. Louis is now 1½ games behind the first place Warriors and has only four games to make up the difference.

BULLETS BOW

Baltimore, which plays at San Francisco tonight, absorbed a 115-109 defeat from the Lakers at Los Angeles in Wednesday's other scheduled NBA game.

Hal Greer, with 42 points, led the 76ers to victory on the Hawks' home court. The score was tied at halftime 56-56, but Philadelphia gradually pulled away in the second half. Bob Pettit got 25 points for the Hawks.

Elgin Baylor sparked Los Angeles' victory over the undermanned Bullets with 25 points and Rudy LaRusso added 23. Baltimore's Walt Bellamy captured game scoring honors with 31 points.

M'COVEY AIMS AT 50 HOMERS

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Willie McCovey, who threw a few prophets for a loss by becoming the regular left fielder of the San Francisco Giants, was asked what's to keep him from hitting 50 home runs this season.

"It's between me and the left-handed pitchers," he said. "I feel if I can do better against them I'll improve my home run output."

It doesn't really require much improvement. McCovey tied Hank Aaron of Milwaukee for the National League home run title last year. Besides hitting 44 homers, he also drove in 102 runs, batted .280, ran up 319 total bases and had a .566 slugging percentage.

But one thing troubles him.

"I hit 36 home runs off right-handed pitchers," he said, "and just eight off left-handers.

"Now, any time a left-handed batter hits 44 home runs, you expect him to get more than eight off left-handed pitchers. I think I'd have to get at least 12, or maybe 15, off left-handers to finish up around 50.

MORE GRIEFS MOUNT UP FOR SONNY LISTON

DENVER (AP)—Troubles are piling high for Sonny Liston, who lost his heavyweight boxing title to Cassius Clay last month.

Municipal court officials said he will be tried between March 17 and April 10 on charges of speeding, reckless and careless driving, carrying a concealed weapon and driving without a valid operator's license. He was arrested Tuesday and released on $300 bond.

Liston's former manager, George Katz of Philadelphia, filed suit in New York City Wednesday asking $1.3 million from Liston for breach of contract.

ANOTHHER SUIT

In another action, federal marshals served Liston with papers Wednesday in a suit for $116,000 filed in Chicago by Ben Bentley, also known as Ben Goldberg, who said he was hired as publicity agent by Liston and Inter - Continental Promotions, Inc.

Jack Nilon, Liston's present advisor, and his brothers, Robert A. and James F. Nilon, and Inter - Continental also were named as defendants in Katz' suit. he charged that the Nilon brothers induced Liston to displace Katz as manager and replace him with Jack Nilon.

To accomplish that, Katz said, Inter-Continental was formed with Liston holding 47½ per cent of the stock and Robert and James Nilon the balance.

ARRESTED TUESDAY

Bentley said he was hired by Inter-Continental in December 1962 at a salary of $330 a week. He asked $16,001 in back salary and $100,000 which he said he lost because the firm did not grant him three Chicago outlets for closed-circuit television of the Liston-Clay fight.

The ex-champ was arrested Tuesday night by traffic officer James Snider, who said radar in his patrol car registered Liston's Cadillac speeding 76 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone.

MONTREAL'S HOPES FADE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An upset stomach almost scratched Toronto ace Frank Mahovlich from Wednesday night's key National Hockey League tilt with Montreal. The Canadiens are sorry he didn't stay in bed.

Mahovlich not only played, but his 23rd goal beat Montreal 1-0 and dimmed the Canadiens' NHL title prospects. Their fifth straight winless game left the floundering Flying Frechmen two points behind Chicago, idle Wednesday, in the run for first place.

"Now we have to win Saturday night against Chicago or the race is all over," Montreal Coach Toe Blake said after Mahovlich and goalie Johnny Bower had stymied the Canadiens.

New York goalie Jacques Plante, who beat the Canadiens 3-2 last Saturday despite a 102 degree fever and held them to a scoreless tie the following night, had no such success in Wednesday's other game.

Last place Boston drubbed the Rangers 5-3 and formally ousted them from playoff contention. The New York defeat handed fourth place, the last postseason spot, to Detroit.

BIG 3 LEAD AT ST. PETE

ST.PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The defending champions of professional golfing's four biggest tournaments led the field into the first round today of the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open.

The field also included the winners of four of this year's eight PGA tournaments and six of the 10 current leading money winners.

It included the last four St. Petersburg Open winners — George Bayer, Bob Goalby, Bobby Nichols and Raymond Floyd.

In Wednesday's pro-am warmup, Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and amateur Paul Tarnow of Tampa shot six-under-par 66s.

The former Gettysburg star was the playmaker for his team and netted seven points when Bordentown copped the title by defeating St. Benedict's Prep 53-46. Longanecker averaged 8.5 points per game during the season.

The clock struck midnight for Steelton - Highspire, Cinderella team of the 1964 PIAA basketball playoffs.

Surprise winners of both the Central Penn Conference and the District 3 Class A championship, the Steamrollers finally met their match Wednesday night in Catasauqua.

The villain was Larry Miller who fired in 46 points to spark the Roughriders to a hard-earned 65-62 triumph and carry them into the Eastern Regional Class A finals.

NANTICOKE WINS

Two other Class A schools also kept their state title hopes alive with impressive victories. Joe Grzymski scored 55 points—a possible playoff record—as Nanticoke whipped Williamsport 97-66. Pittsburgh Fifth Avenue employed a balanced attack to upset Meadville 70-62.

Miller was "Mr. Everything" for Catasauqua, canning 19 field goals and 8-for-8 from the charity line, while hauling down 24 rebounds and setting up most of his team's plays.

Steelton fought gallantly against the favored Roughriders, matching them point for point. A driving layup and a free throw by Miller proved the margin of difference after the surging Steamrollers closed the gap to 62-60 in the final minute.

STEWART IS HERO

Steel-High's Dennis Stewart was the hero of the local fans with 38 points, most of them coming on jumpers from the key. The 6-5 junior tallied eight straight points in the opening seconds before Catasauqua got on the scoreboard.

Grzymski was the story in Scranton as the Nans (District 2), beat Williamsport (District 4). He accounted for 20 field goals and 15 foul shots. Nanticoke jumped off to a 21-18 first quarter lead which it never relinquished.

JIM BOUTON HAS SIGNED

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Jim Bouton, who wanted the New York Yankees to double his salary, has signed his 1964 contract, saying "They had me over a barrel."

Bouton arrived at the Yankees' spring training camp Wednesday and accepted a contract calling for $18,000. The right-hander said he originally was going to ask for a $15,000 raise but lowered his price to $10,000 after encountering front office resistance.

He won 21 games and lost seven and had a 2.53 earned run average, the team's best, on a $10,000 salary last year.

New York General Manager Ralph Houk had threatened Bouton with a $100 fine for every day he was absent from camp after Wednesday midnight.

"I couldn't afford to lose $100 a day," Bouton said. "I have a wife and baby."

Triandos Suffers From Stiff Neck

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Gus Triandos, the Philadelphia Phillies' newest receiver, stayed on the sidelines Wednesday while the team went through a long batting drill.

Triandos, obtained in an off-season deal with the Detroit Tigers, is bothered by a stiff neck again.

The catcher said he was carrying a hot cup of coffee just before coming to spring training last month when he sneezed and apparently pulled something. His neck has been bothering him periodically ever since.

JIM BROWN MOST RUGGED '63 RUNNER

NEW YORK (AP) — After yielding the honors to Jim Taylor for one season, Cleveland's Jimmy Brown got back into stride as the National Football League's most rugged runner in 1963.

The result was that official NFL rushing statistics, released today, gave Brown these firsts:

Individual champion, best average, most touchdowns, most attempts, best one-game performance and longest run. With that kind of performances from Brown, Cleveland won the team rushing title for the first time since 1959.

6TH YEAR IN SEVEN

In winning the individual championship for the sixth time in seven years, Brown gained 1,863 yards, shattering his own 1958 record of 1,527. Taylor, who interrupted Jimmy's string in 1962, when Brown was bothered by a wrist injury and disagreement with Coach Paul Brown, was second with 1,018 yards and Tim Brown of Philadelphia third with 841.

The Browns' Brown carried the ball 291 times, 14 short of his own NFL record. He averaged 6.4 yards per carry and scored 12 touchdowns by rushing. His longest run was 80 yards against Washington and his best game saw him gain 232 yards on 20 attempts against Dallas. The last figure was five yards short of another Brown record.

As a team, Cleveland led in all rushing categories but attempts and touchdowns. The Browns ran the ball 460 times for 2,639 yards and a 5.7 yard average. The Pittsburgh Steelers made the most rushes, 578, and the Green Bay Packers, 1962 champions, led with 22 touchdowns.

SENATE CUTS SAVINGS FROM UC PROPOSALS

By JACK LYNCH
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate changes in Gov. Scranton's un employment compensation proposal will cut $8 million from the $35 million in benefit payments the administration had hoped to save through tighter eligibility restrictions, it was reported today.

Despite the relatively heavy cut, Scranton told a news conference Wednesday he would accept the changes because they do not violate these three major principles:

Restore the U.C. Fund balance to a safe level; eliminate loopholes in benefit payments; and make Pennsylvania's industrial development program competitive with surrounding states.

REVISE TABLE

A source close to the administration said the best estimate of the bill's net saving in benefit reductions is now $27 million.

The principal change made by the Senate revises the table upon which qualifying wages and weekly benefit amounts are computed.

The Senate revised the table to require approximately 18 weeks of work. At the same time, the change makes it more difficult to qualify for benefits of $25 a week or less and makes it easier to qualify for benefits above $25 weekly.

Under the original proposal, the table with a limit of one step-down in weekly benefit amount to qualify under the annual wage requirement, instead of as many as six step-downs, would have reduced payouts by $15 million. The revised table would reduce payouts only $8 million.

SEASONAL WORKERS

However, the effect of the changes would increase the "saving" in the second benefit round feature from $12 to $15 million.

The source said amendments affecting new mothers and seasonal workers and by restoring benefits under $15 a week would cut $5 million from the anticipated benefit payout saving.

Money factors in all other benefit reduction features of the program would remain about the same, regardless of whether they were amended or not, the source added.

VOTE ON FRIDAY

The source estimated that the total cost of increasing the weekly maximum benefit from $40 to $45 for higher paid workers would rise from $20 to $21 million through the table revision.

The cost disclosures came as the Senate rested a day before taking a final vote Friday on the controversial proposal.

Senate Democratic leaders spent the recess day going over strategy to delay final passage as long as possible. They are unanimously against it.

CHAIN LETTERS FLOOD OFFICES OF GOVERNOR

By ED McCUSKER
Associated Press Writer

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Medgar Evers Family Memorial Fund is still without a trustee as chain mail envelopes containing contributions continue to flow into the law office of former Gov. Ross Barnett.

The court-appointed trustee told the Associated Press today that he doesn't have time to handle the money and meet other business and civic demands.

REFUSES TRUSTEESHIP

Marvin Collum, president of the First National Bank of Jackson, said, "I can't handle the fund and keep up with all my other obligations. I just don't have the time," he said.

"I first learned that I had been named trustee when I read it in the newspapers," he said. "Well, I can't handle it. I don't have the time."

"I understand the governor (Barnett) is looking around for someone to take the trustee job," Collum remarked.

Barnett, who stepped down as governor Jan. 21, has been deluged with mail naming him as trustee of the Evers Family Memorial Fund.

5,000 LETTERS

Over 5,000 letters have been sent to him.

Barnett termed the mail "harassment."

The letters, sacked in mail bags, clutter a corner in his office. They bear mostly checks for $1, although some contain checks for larger amounts. They come from all over the United States and Europe.

The letters began finding their way to Barnett shortly after Medgar Evers, a Negro and field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot down at his Jackson home June 12, 1963.

NEW TRIAL SLATED

Byron De La Beckwith, a white man, was charged with the ambush slaying. His first trial ended with the jury deadlocked. Another trial will get underway later this month.

Barnett said letters with return addresses were sent back.

The chain letters called for persons to "flood the desk of Barnett with envelopes containing $1 checks which only he can deliver to the Evers family."

Scranton Sees Lodge As Frontrunning Contender

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican party's old pros—its grassroots leaders—surveyed a topsy-turvy political scene today and tried to figure out what happened in New Hampshire and what it will mean.

Most of them saw it as a victory of one kind or another for their particular favorite in the apparently wide-open GOP presidential nominating derby.

Many of the state GOP chairmen polled by The Associated Press discounted Henry Cabot Lodge's write-in victory as little more than New Englanders giving a favorite son pat on the back to another New Englander.

Others took the view of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton: that Lodge is now one of the leading contenders "at the very least."

BACK IN BUSINESS

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Draft-Lodge Committee had its telephone disconnected and had all but shut down its headquarters here when Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's write-in victory in the New Hampshire primary revived the movement.

Dr. Frank J. Dzurik, head of the committee, said Wednesday he would get a new telephone back in the office on Public Square.

Some—particularly backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona—saw it as a blow to the hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's backers contended the governor was the one who gained most. They argued he finished close to the second-place Goldwater after having trailed badly in the polls at the start of the New Hampshire campaign.

Richard M. Nixon, who ran fourth in the primary via write-ins, gave his view of what happened at a news conference Wednesday night.

"That very independent Yankee spirit seems to favor candidates who were farther away than the ones who were there," Nixon said.

He also said it would be a mistake to count out Goldwater and Rockefeller and declared: "The battle is still to be fought."

Practically all the state chairmen felt the same way—that there was a lot more ground, and primaries, to be covered before the candidate would be picked at the July nominating convention.

Thus the spotlight swung across country from the icy land of New Hampshire to sunny California where Rockefeller is already at work mining votes for the June 2 primary there.

This, Goldwater has said, will be the big one and he plans to follow his New York rival in to California on Friday.

Kings And Ex-Kings At Burial Of Greek King

By GERALD MILLER

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece was borne to his grave today, attended by six of Europe's seven reigning monarchs and other dignitaries from around the world.

The dead king's son and successor, King Constantine, 23, walked with his weeping mother, Queen Frederika, and his sisters, Crown Princess Irene and Princess Sophie, behind the flag-draped coffin on a caisson pulled by Greek navy sailors.

KINGS, QUEEN

The foreign mourners were led by King Baudouin of Belgium, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, King Frederik of Denmark, King Gustav of Sweden, and King Olva of Norway. Only Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, who gave birth to her fourth child on Tuesday was absent. Her husband, Prince Philip, represented her.

Nearly 800,000 Greeks lined the mile and a half route of the cortege through downtown Athens.

2 FROM U.S.

Former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were there for the United States. Walking with them were 18 princes, 8 princesses, 7 dukes, 2 duchesses, 2 presidents — and envoys from Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union, Communist countries where royalty is considered a political curse.

In the line of march were former kings whose thrones no longer exist—Umberto of Italy, Michael of Romania and Simeon of Bulgaria.

King Paul died last Friday at Tatoi Palace, 16 miles north of Athens, of uremia following stomach surgery. He was 62 and had reigned 17 years.

Chief Cracks Down On Commissioners

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — A city commission meeting was interrupted Wednesday by a request from the police chief.

Would the commissioners without city car tags, especially the one parked in front of the police station, please put them on?

Police have been cracking down on drivers who failed to get tags by last Friday's deadline. Some of the commissioners said they did not know the deadline had passed.

DEFIES DEATH TO SAVE MAN

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Thaddeus Gibson, 39, of Marcus Hook, Pa., risked being crushed between a freighter and a launch Wednesday and saved the life of a New York man.

U.S. Customs official Robert Campbell called it the "bravest thing I had ever seen."

Campbell described what happened:

Frank Farley, 47, of Brooklyn, N.Y., who represents the shipping company for the Norwegian freighter Brovig, was leaving the vessel when the gangplank broke and he plunged into the icy Delaware River.

The launch, the Duke, and the freighter were brushing each other, then drifting apart, Campbell said.

"Gibson acted. He just jumped in and grabbed Farley. Somebody threw a life belt and they were hauled aboard. I've never seen a braver thing," he said.

Both men were rushed to Wilmington General Hospital where they were treated for exposure and released.

Chaplain Takes KP To Curb Profanity

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — If the Army wants to know how it can cut down on cussing in the mess halls, the 1st Brigade of the 2nd Infantry Division has found a way—put the chaplain on KP duty.

The chaplain, Capt. Duie R. Jernigan of Oklahoma City, Okla., was challenged by the 1st Brigade cooks when he chided them for their language.

If the cooks couldn't go a week without cussing, they each would contribute $2 to the chaplain's fund. If they could, Jernigan would go on KP.

Half a dozen purple-faced cooks groped for words to express themselves for seven days. On the eighth day, Jernigan spent the day elbow-deep in dishwater.

PTA To Provide Blackboards

The Parent - Teacher Association of Sacred Heart Parochial School, Conewago, will provide the blackboards for the new school annex, it was decided at a meeting Sunday.

Treasurer Gerald Smith reported a balance of $1,145.39 for the purpose.

Volleyball equipment, including balls, nets and posts, were purchased by the PTA recently and was placed in charge of the school principal.

Plans were made for a 10-week series of financial projects, beginning April 2 and ending June 13. The chairmen will be Fabian Lawrence, Bernard Livelsberger and Robert Gebhart. Volunteer assistance will be appreciated.

Mothers present agreed on conformity of dress for the children taking part in the May procession.

President John Murren named Herbert Wildasin, Raymond Weaver and John Livelsberger to a nominating committee to select candidates for vice president, secretary and treasurer. The election will be held at the May meeting.

The Seventh Grade won the attendance banner. A social hour was held after songs by the children. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Bolen led prayers.

PLAN STUDY OF CONFESSION IN 3 SLAYINGS

QUEBEC (AP) — Francis Thompson, an Indian who confessed to Miami police in 1958, that he had killed three Pennsylvania hunters three years earlier, will testify before a Royal Commission in Montreal April 7-9.

The commission was set up to study the preparation and presentation of evidence at the trial of Wilbert Coffin, 42-year-old prospector who was hanged for the shootings in 1956.

A second goal is the study of Thompson's alleged confession, which he retracted a few days later.

The commission was set up in January as a result of a book by Jacques Hebert that said Coffin had been railroaded to the gallows for the deaths of the three Pennsylvanians, all from Hollidaysburg.

In Wednesday's testimony, former police Sgt. Henri Doyon, 54, said he was told of two men in an American jeep by Wilbert Coffin himself as the investigation into the deaths of the hunters began.

Doyon denied having seen jeep tracks in the immediate area where the bodies were found and said he must have been misunderstood in statements made in 1955 to Francois Gravel, Coffin's lawyer.

Market Blasted By Homemade Bomb

HARRISBURG (AP) — Police Chief Leonard Lotrick of Hampden Twp. says several fragments of what authorities believe was a homemade bomb were found at the scene of an explosion that rocked the Weis Market early Wednesday.

Lotricks said the fragments were being analyzed by the state police.

The explosion, which occurred slightly after midnight, blew out a section of a wall.

Army demolition experts from Indiantown Gap Military Reservation also assisted in the investigation.

Wanted In Orbit: Celestial Traffic Cop

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press
Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The traffic in space is getting so heavy it almost calls for a celestial traffic cop.

In fact, it's a wonder Santa Claus and his reindeer can navigate through it at Christmastime — to say nothing of the broom-riding witches on Halloween.

A heavenly highway sweeper might also be in order because a lot of the traffic actually consists of man - made celestial junk — and mighty expensive junk at that.

There are more than 400 "objects" orbiting in space at the present time — ranging from full-fledged satellites to the used-up carcasses of rockets and to small pieces of metal separated from the original spacecraft either by accident or design.

87 SATELLITES

Of all the orbiting objects, only 87 are satellites — including 76 American models, one Canadian, one U.S.-Britain and nine Russian entries. Thirty-eight of the American spacecraft are military types whose specific missions are mostly hush-hush.

Of the American, British and Canadian models, only 22 are still sending scientific information to earth by radio, although all the others served science well before their communications systems ran out of gas.

How many of the Russian numbers are still carrying on radio chatter has NOT been disclosed by either the Russians or by the Americans. The latter presumably are using radio pickups or other electronic aids to keep tabs on the Soviet entries.

300 OBJECTS DECAY

In addition to the beeping and nonbeeping satellites — and the assorted space junk — still in orbit, more than 300 objects which once orbited have re-entered the earth's atmosphere and "decayed" in the period between 1957 and the end of last year.

These decayed objects include 88 American satellites and 46 Russian models.

Spacecraft in orbit range from some whizzing around only a few hundred miles above the earth to a few that are in orbit around the sun — like Russia's Lunik I, and America's Mariner II which did the first snooping on Venus.

MEASURE RADIATION

The spacecraft have varied missions ranging from serving as weather eyes to providing television and telephone links between various parts of the world. They're also measuring radiation and other potential hazards to manned spaceflight.

For strictly scientific cataloguing, all the satellites — as well as rocket bodies and most other debris — have Greek or English alphabet names, with their place in the alphabet depending upon when they were launched in a particular year.

The satellites also have more glamorous names like Tiros (which actually stands for "television infrared observation satellite"), Echo, Samos, Ariel, Alouette, Injun, Pioneer, Ranger.

HAVE NICKNAMES

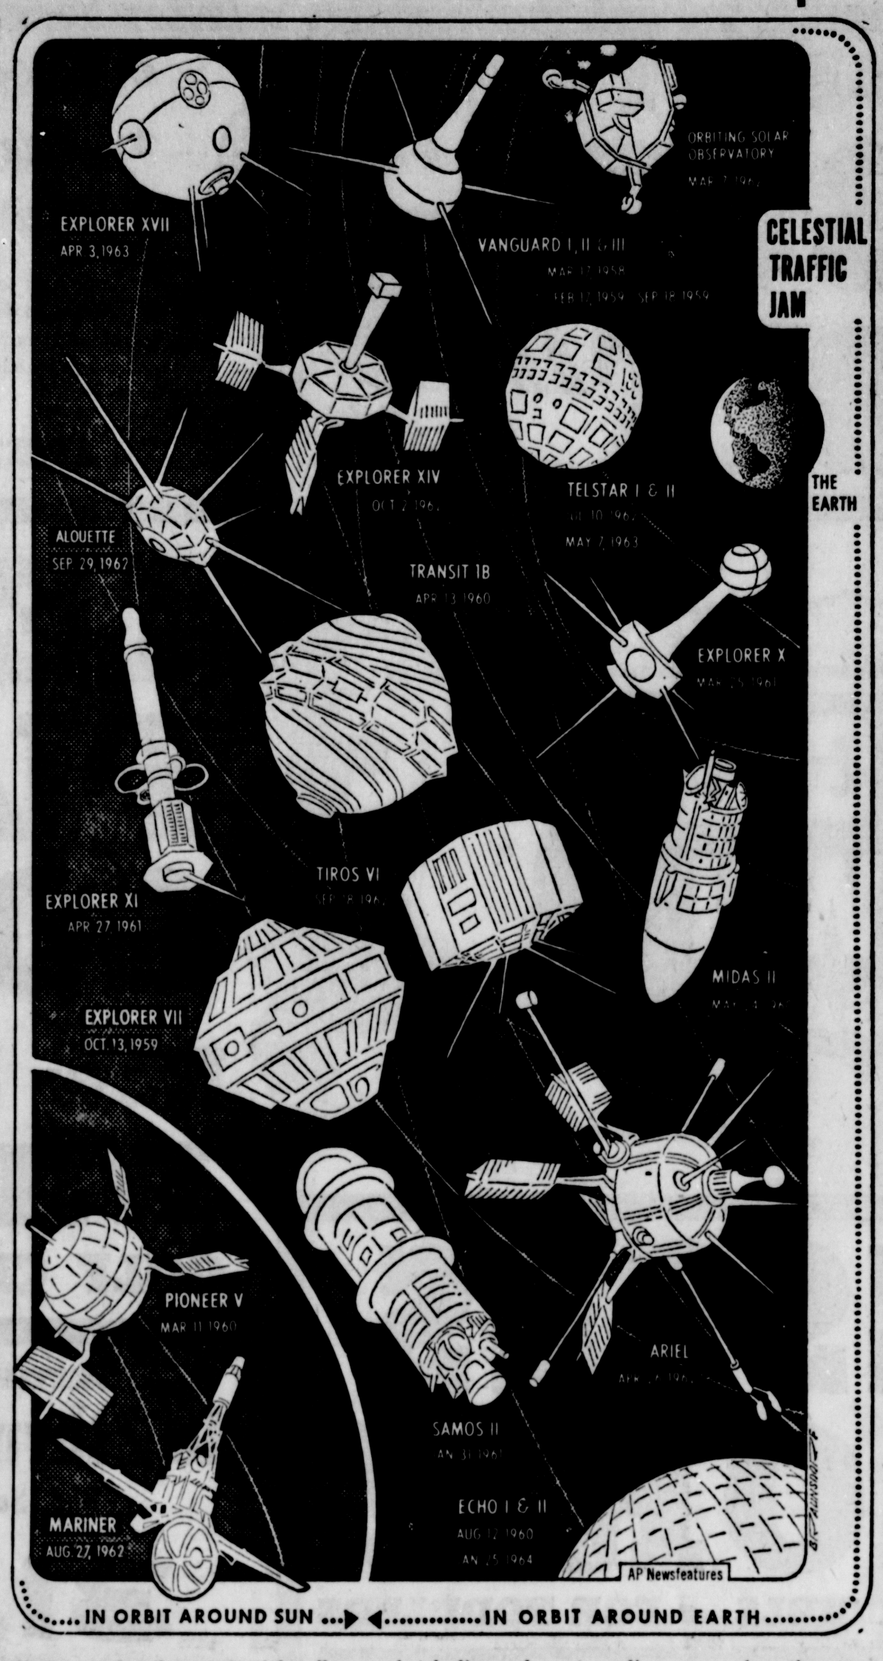
Finally, in recognition of some of their odd-ball shapes and other characteristics, some of them have still other nicknames, such as "paddle-wheel," "polka-dot," "flying junkpile" — and even the "kitchen-sink satellite." The latter was so dubbed by someone because it carried lots of scientific gear, virtually everything but the kitchen sink.

The oldest satellite still in orbit is Explorer I — America's first spacecraft, which has been whizzing around aloft since February 1, 1958.

The oldest orbiting satellite still transmitting is Vanguard I, the grapefruit-sized sphere launched by the U.S. Navy on St. Patrick's Day, 1958.

And the oldest "decayed" object — the spacecraft that signalled the start of the space age — is Russia's Sputnik I.

Launched October 4, 1957, it re-entered the atmosphere in early January, 1958.



James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Hampshire voters must have been more concerned about personality than issues when they gave Henry Cabot Lodge victory in their Republican presidential primary this week.

For this to be the deciding factor in one state might not mean much.

But it may turn out to be a dominant point in the attitude of voters in both parties around the country up to and through the November elections unless there is some crisis before then.

ISSUES BLURRED

Issues in American society have become blurred because so many politicians in both parties see eye-to-eye. They have a time trying to show a difference and they are not very convincing.

In New Hampshire people didn't have much to go on in picking Lodge except their memory of a tall, pleasant, good-looking, rather noncontroversial New Englander who has held highly important jobs under both parties.

As ambassador to South Viet Nam he didn't campaign, said he wasn't a candidate, didn't get closer to New Hampshire than Saigon, and didn't have his name on the ballot. The voters conveniently wrote it in for him.

REJECTION OF THREE

This was a rejection of the three Republicans who talked most about current problems: Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon, who says he isn't a candidate but certainly sounds like one, stayed out of New Hampshire. Goldwater and Rockefeller, acknowledged candidates, talked their way around the state for weeks.

Goldwater and Rockefeller didn't attempt thorough discussions of anything. This may have hurt. They approached events in sudden bursts, and pretty hackneyed ones, too, except for some hair-raisers by the Arizonan.

VIEWS NOT KNOWN

For example: on making Social Security voluntary and sending Marines into Cuba to turn on Fidel Castro's water.

While Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage and Goldwater's shooting from the hip may have cost them votes, the results show voters rejected them for the image of far-off Lodge. Image is a good word here.

It can hardly be claimed the voters in New Hampshire or anywhere else remember much, if anything, about Lodge's views on anything except that, like most people in this country, he is against communism.

The last time he was heard from at any length was in the 1960 presidential race when he was Nixon's vice presidential running mate. Lyndon B. Johnson was his opposite number on the Democratic side.

NOT DISTINGUISHED IN '60

The most that can be said for the Lodge and Johnson speeches in 1960 was that they sounded like warmed-over Nixon and John F. Kennedy. Neither man distinguished himself with views, oratory or panaceas.

This, of course, is in the ancient American political tradition that vice presidential candidates are only echoes.

Before that Lodge had made a name for himself, but non-political, and built up the image of himself on television as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations from 1953 until 1960.

WAS INTERNATIONALIST

That was after Kennedy beat him for his Senate seat in 1952. So for almost 14 years, with the exception of 1960, Lodge has been out of the main stream of American politics. In that time he held no elective office.

At this moment probably most Americans, including the New Hampshireites, don't know where he stands or stood on anything, except that he was a Republican and helped persuade Dwight D. Eisenhower to run for president.

What most probably don't know at all is that as a senator Lodge was an internationalist and, on a number of issues in those days, was more on the liberal than the conservative side.

A species of frog in tropical America has done away with the tadpole and hatches as fully developed baby frogs. Females lay a mere 40 eggs, though other tropical frogs may produce 25,000. Elimination of the tiny aquatic tadpoles, whose mortality rate is high, ensures that a higher portion of the frogs reach maturity.

Sees More Religion Necessary In Homes

CHERRY HILL, N. J. (AP) — The home may have to replace the church as the center of religious education in the 1970s, says the Rev. Howard F. Reisz, a Lutheran clergyman of Pittsburgh.

He told a group of fellow ministers here that in the affluent future days of increasing leisure, families will spend at least three days a week at a second home in the mountains or at the seaside.

and two homes in a family, it is not practical to place primary emphasis on the church as the center of religious education. We may have to concentrate on the home."

Drama League Resumes Tryouts

NEW YORK (AP) — After a two-year intermission, the Broadway Show League is resuming "Talent" showcases for young performers.

John Effrat, producer, said the series is planned to resume in April as a salute to the World's Fair. Three separate matinee programs are to be given — drama, musical comedy and concert skills.

Among performers who benefited by "Talent" exhibits in previous years are Juanita Hall, Dody Goodman, Kay Medford, Charles Nelson Reilly, Kaye Ballard and Earle Hyman.

RELIGIOUS BALANCE

BONN, Germany (AP) — Official figures published by the West German government show that of the total population of 56 million, 51 per cent are Protestant and 44 per cent Roman Catholic.

BOARD ADOPTS POLICY

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — In order to heed recent court rulings against religious indoctrination in the schools, the school board here has adopted a policy of "trees at Christmas and bunnies at Easter."

M'NAMARA TO SUGGEST MORE AID TO S. V. NAM

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reportedly will tell President Johnson that massive U. S. aid to South Viet Nam must be continued and perhaps increased if the war against Communist guerrillas is to be won.

McNamara heads home tonight after a five-day fact finding mission on the state of the war since seizure of power by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

U.S. sources said McNamara also would express confidence in the new government. Since Khanh's bloodless coup Jan. 30, Viet Cong guerrillas have sharply stepped up their campaign with considerable success.

CAN BEAT REDS

McNamara's view that the Red insurgency can be stamped out was reflected in his remarks to a rally of 30,000 persons Wednesday at Hue, 40 miles from the border of Communist North Viet Nam.

"We will supply now and in the future whatever economic aid, military training and military equipment you need to defeat your enemy, now and forever," McNamara said.

It was the defense secretary's strongest public commitment during his visit, and his words were loudly cheered.

Khanh and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge accompanied McNamara to Hue.

GUEST AT BANQUET

McNamara was guest of honor at a state banquet in the presidential palace in Saigon Wednesday night, but Lodge was a center of much of the talk and banter because of his victory in Tuesday's New Hampshire Republican presidential primary. Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the chief of state, suggested that Lodge pick up the tab for the champagne.

Everywhere he went McNamara pledged U. S. determination to help in the fight against the Communists.

McNamara also played an uncharacteristic public role, shouting Vietnamese slogans, patting babies' heads and pinching girls on the cheeks. He seemed to be taking to heart the advice American officials have given to Vietnamese leaders to court the approval of their people.

Family Of 9 Made Homeless By Fire

HARRISBURG (AP)—A family of nine is homeless today as a result of a fire that destroyed their brick dwelling in suburban Lower Swatara Twp.

Bernard Johnson, his wife, and their seven children, aged 7 to 23, escaped the burning structure unhurt. Firemen fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control.

Twp. fire chief Robert L. Pickel estimated damage to the home at $5,000. He believed the fire was caused by sparks from a wood-burning furnace.

Confirm 16 Of 17 Members Of Board

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate has confirmed all but one of Gov. Scranton's appointments to the state's new 17-member Board of Education.

The Senate Committee on Executive Nominations Wednesday held back the name of Duane E. Wilder of Warren, a carryover from the Lawrence administration and chairman of the old State Council of Education.

Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin, said Wilder lacked the necessary votes in committee, but refused to elaborate. Wilder will continue to serve on the board without confirmation, however, until he is confirmed or his appointment is withdrawn.

City Strikes Law Requiring Masks

ELKON, Nev. (AP)—After 46 years it's legal to go unmasked in Elko's public buildings.

A city ordinance enacted in the 1918 influenza epidemic required all persons to wear masks in public buildings.

Someone noticed the law still was on the books, so the city council repealed it Tuesday night.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China and Communist Romania finished eight days of high-level talks today in what Radio Peking called "a friendly atmosphere," but the purpose of the talks remained a matter of speculation.

Some reports say the Romanians went to Peking in an attempt to help settle the bitter ideological feud between Red China and the Soviet Union.

WARNS SOLONS AGAINST DELAY

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., warned his colleagues of "confusion, instability and chaos" if they refuse to send the civil rights bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The result of such a refusal, he said today in a Senate speech, would be to "greatly endanger, if not completely destroy, the efficiency and integrity of our legislative processes."

McClellan was the opening Southern speaker in the fourth day of debate on the House-passed civil rights bill.

SOUTHERN SUPPORT

The Senate so far is considering only the motion to take up the bill. The Dixie forces are believed willing to permit this to come to a vote by the middle of next week.

Once it is adopted, there will be a move to try to shunt the bill to the committee.

Democratic leaders have pledged to defeat this move if possible. They contend that the committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., has demonstrated in this Congress as in previous ones that it has no intention of acting on any civil rights legislation.

Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., spoke on civil rights Wednesday. Several other senators talked on other subjects.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Multimillionaire horseman Peter A.B. Widener III, 39, and a 22-year-old airline stewardess, Frances Miriam Crenshaw, were honeymooning today.

Miss Crenshaw, who moved out of a second-floor walkup apartment in Miami, and Widener, heir to a $100-million estate, were married in a private ceremony at a Baptist church in nearby Palm Beach Gardens Wednesday.

The bride, of Anderson, S.C., resigned from Delta Airlines five days ago.

Circumstances surrounding the couple's meeting and courtship were kept secret.

BERLIN (AP) — A 72-hour stopover with relatives will be allowed West Berliners traveling through Communist East Germany to other countries.

Otto Haffner, head of a West Berlin travel bureau specializing in travel to Soviet bloc countries, said Wednesday the concession will permit relatives separated 2½ years by the Berlin wall to meet in designated cities, but not in East Berlin.

Previous transit visas have limited auto travelers to 24 hours in East Germany. Rail passengers have not been allowed to leave trains.

MOSCOW (AP) — A small suburban bakery has begun producing matzoth for Moscow's Jewish community for consumption during the eight days of Passover, beginning March 27.

However, it appeared there would be nearly enough matzoth for the 20,000 Jewish families in Moscow who adhere to the ancient tradition of eating unleavened bread during the annual religious observance.

TO DECIDE ON NEW PUMPER

The Irishtown Fire Company has called a public meeting to determine whether it should secure a new fire engine.

John Sneeringer, chairman of the committee to investigate the cost of a new pumper, said all of the residents of the Irishtown area have been invited to attend a meeting March 20 at 8 p.m. in the Irishtown fire hall.

At that meeting the committee will outline the need for a new engine and the various types of equipment that can be purchased. Those attending will be asked to express their opinions on the subject as a guidance before the company completes its plans to buy a new truck. Cost of a new piece of equipment will be about $10,000, Sneeringer said.

Sneeringer said the committee "went over a lot of trucks" before reaching a point where it could make recommendations at the public meeting concerning "the most truck for the least money."

Other members of the committee include Ralph Smith, George Riser, Ralph Weaver, Herbert Selix and Robert Bolin.

The company at present has a 1938 pumper and a 1948 service truck.

EX-OFFICIAL OF PENNSY DIES GIVES WARNING ON UC PLANS

WYNNEWOOD, Pa. (AP) — Funeral services will be held in Ardmore Saturday for Edward C. Gegenheimer, 70, of Wynnewood, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad official, who died Wednesday of a heart condition.

Since he began working for the PRR in 1911, his assignments included the planning and development of the Union Station in his native Chicago, and both the 30th St. Pennsylvania Station and the Suburban Station in Philadelphia.

He was superintendent for the PRR at Sunbury, Williamsport and Altoona, Pa., and at Toledo, Ohio.

He was later general superintendent at Williamsport and assistant general manager of the eastern region at Philadephia.

He was finally named to the railroad's terminal coordinating committee, the position he held until he retired in 1955.

Survivors include his widow and two sons.

RIVERS RECEDE IN WESTERN PA.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Western Pennsylvania rivers and streams continued receding today following two days of flooding that drove about 1,700 persons from their homes.

The Ohio River at Pittsburgh was expected to drop below flood stage by tonight at the latest.

The Weather Bureau said no rain is expected in the Pittsburgh area before Friday night or Saturday.

The flooding on Tuesday and Wednesday was mostly due to heavy rains on Sunday and Monday.

Meanwhile, Col. Bert de Melker Pittsburgh district engineer for the Army-Engineers, estimated the flood caused $3,856,000 damage in the Pittsburgh area.

Pair Held; Four Police Injured

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gregory Jaworowski, 19, and William Hellings, 21, are being held in $10,000 bail each today, accused of waging a series of fights that resulted in injuries to four patrolmen.

Magistrate Samuel Clark Jr. held both for a further hearing next Wednesday to await the outcome for Sgt. James Dolan, who is in Philadelphia General Hospital with a possible heart attack.

The two men were charged with aggravated assault and battery, resisting arrest, disorderly conduct, breach of the peace and intoxication.

Police said they found the two arguing in a car and asked them to get out. Police said they refused and several scuffles developed before they were lodged in a police station.

Nixon, Scranton Drop Texas Primary

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two men frequently mentioned as prospective candidates for the Republican presidential nomination withdraw Wednesday from Texas' presidential preference poll in the state GOP primary May 2.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon and Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton sent word they did not choose to be judged by the Texas opinion poll.

The announced candidates whose names will be on the May 2 ballot, whether they wish it or not, are Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and Harold F. Stassen.

DENVER (AP)—Quote of the day: Ed C. Johnson, 80, former U.S. senator and governor of Colorado, as he left a Denver hospital after recovering from surgery:

EXPECT OK ON FEDERAL PAY INCREASE BILL

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strong support from House leaders has greatly improved chances for passage of a federal pay increase bill that includes big boosts for members of Congress.

Before a final vote comes today, however, a move may be made to trim from $10,000-a-year to $7,500 the increases that would go to members of Congress and other high-paid government officials. A total of 1.7 million federal employes would benefit under the bill, with the average mailman and government secretary getting a $450-a-year raise.

The House spent Wednesday debating the issue of whether it deserved an increase after going nine years without one, and heard a resounding "yes" from Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma and assistant Democratic leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana.

"DISAGREEABLE TASK"

It also heard some equally rousing "no's" and demands that the House stand up and be counted on a roll call vote instead of trying to pass the bill by a nonrecord voice vote.

The members, who needed no such reminders, were told repeatedly by the bill's supporters that they faced "a hard and disagreeable task" in voting to raise their own $22,500-a-year salaries.

Albert told them the duty to set federal salaries was put upon them by the Constitution and could not be evaded. Holding down congressional pay, Albert said, would depress all salaries, since they are fixed by tradition in rigid relationships.

"WE'RE IMPORTANT"

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., a chief sponsor of the bill, told his colleagues "we are important people." He said he is tired of having Congress downgrade itself and praised the bill as "the first effort in history to bring order into the federal salary scale."

Many Republicans, however, said Congress could not in good conscience vote itself a big increase just after cutting taxes and urging frugality in government spending.

Termites In Dorm Cause Troubles

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — "A demonstration was called off at Shepherd College at the last minute Wednesday night after an agreement was reached between some 75 freshmen girls who occupy a dormitory known as Miller Hall and freshmen dean Molly Borwick.

The demonstration was canceled after Dean Borwick assured the girls that the termites in the dorm will be exterminated.

TO VOTE SOON ON QUICKER AMENDMENTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal to speed up the process for amending Pennsylvania's 90-year-old Constitution is expected to come up for a vote in the Senate next week.

The proposal was reported to the floor Wednesday by the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

Under present law, constitutional amendments must pass two separately elected legislatures before being brought to a vote of the people.

The proposed change would eliminate the second step and allow the amendment to be put on the ballot after the first vote if approved by a two-thirds majority in each house.

Two other proposed constitutional amendments also reached the floor of the Senate. One would exempt men and women over 65 years of age from the state's head tax if their income is lower than $3,500 a year. The other would give special preference to disabled veterans in appointments to public positions.

FRIEND DENIES JOHNSON FEUD WITH KENNEDY

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP)—A close associate of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today reports of a feud between Kennedy and President Johnson are "just silly."

"There is no feud between the two," the aide told a reporter. "The attorney general and President Johnson have never been very close. But they are no farther apart today than they were three months ago. This talk of a feud is just silly."

Informed sources said Johnson and Kennedy had not discussed personally the feud talk. Reports of a rift have engrossed official Washington in the wake of a robust drive to get Kennedy's name written in as Johnson's vice presidential running mate in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

REPORTS PERSIST

The reports persisted although Kennedy had issued a statement last week saying he wished to discourage any efforts on his behalf in New Hampshire or elsewhere.

Fears had been voiced that Johnson would feel nettled if Kennedy got more write-ins than Johnson did. As it turned out, Johnson polled 29,635, Kennedy 25,861 in the complete, unofficial count. But the feud talk persisted.

The White House has insisted that the schism is a creation of newspaper columnists. A close Johnson associate of long standing said he had "never even heard of this feud, except in the newspapers. They're putting 2 and 2 together and getting 20. I think the Republicans are promoting it to embarrass us."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger scoffed at reports the two men aren't on speaking terms.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

SEPARATE APPROACH: Four rail unions have offered to negotiate wage and other issues with the Southern Pacific and the Louisville & Nashville railroads.

The move Wednesday was viewed as an attempt to splinter the solid negotiating front of some 200 carriers, although a union spokesman said it was an effort to forestall a nationwide strike.

There was no immediate response from the carriers. The unions are the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Railroad Trainmen, both AFL-CIO, and the independent Locomotive Engineers and the independent Railway Conductors and Brakemen.

FARM BILL: The House Rules Committee is in no mood to hurry and therefore floor action on the farm bill is not likely before next week.

The measure has passed the Senate. House Agriculture Committee Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., is expected to ask the committee to send it to the floor without change.

CUBAN: Assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey has demanded prompt action to halt Cuban arms shipments to Latin America by "whatever steps are required in terms of naval operations or any form of activity."

The war of Communist subversion is not confined to the rice paddies of South Viet Nam, the Minnesotan said in a Senate speech Wednesday.

WILLIAMS: Walter C. Williams, a key figure in the nation's effort to land men on the moon, reportedly plans to resign from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to join the Aerospace Corp.

Williams, 44, operations director for NASA's manned space flight missions, is reported to have been offered a vice presidency with the El Segundo, Calif., company.

CLEANING: The Washington monument is going to get its first major face-lifting and bath in 30 years.

Beginning about May 1, the 555-foot shaft will be scrubbed and cracks in the stonework repaired.

The National Capital Regional Park service estimated the work would take six months.

Miss Blatt Sure She'll Win Race

HARRISBURG (AP) — Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt says she is sure she will win the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate despite lack of organization support.

Miss Blatt, who is opposing the state organization-endorsed candidate, Supreme Court Justice Michael Musmanno, said in a statement Wednesday:

"... I am in this campaign to win both the nomination and the election, and I'm confident I will do both."

The statement was in reply to one issued by the Philadelphia Democratic organization on Tuesday. The Philadelphia group charged that Sen. Joseph S. Clark, her biggest backer, was supporting her because he wanted to see Republican incumbent Hugh Scott re-elected in November.

Students Attend Jack Ruby Trial

DALLAS AP)—Students at suburban Garland High School are getting a first-hand glimpse at history by attending the Jack Ruby murder trial.

Ten to 15 students are excused from classes daily, and report to their classmates the next day.

Principal Gene Hudson said the practice began last week when parents asked the youngsters be excused to go to the trial.

"The ones who want to go are usually from civics and government, and on the whole they are the brighter students," the principal said.

Alternate squares of liver with squares of bacon and broil. Brush with butter or margarine (melted) several times during the broiling.

Minter's Grocery Store Observes 48th Birthday, 48th Anniversary Here

grocery business in 1936, turning over his store to his son, Glenn; his son-in-law, Stover A. Small, and Clifford G. Naugle, who had been employed for many years by the late Mr. Minter.

REMODEL STORE

In 1938 the new management decided upon such extensive renovations that it was necessary to move the entire stock of merchandise into the building next door, previously the Citizens Trust Co., where Minter's Grocery operated for a period of seven weeks until the remodeling project was completed.

The store underwent two more "face-lifting" operations during the next several years to provide greater convenience and modern facilities to customers.

In 1950 when self-service swept the country, Minter's remodeled to provide the shopper with the convenience of making her own selections personally from the ample supplies of fruits, vegetables and staple items. Only the meat counter has continued to provide individual butcher service, but several clerks are always present to give personal assistance.

CHECK-OUT SERVICE

In 1955 major alterations were made to Minter's to provide additional space, modern display cases for fresh and frozen food storage and faster check-out service. A complete line of frozen foods and convenience items were added.

One of the long-established services of Minter's has been home delivery service which has enabled shoppers to perform shopping duties by telephone. Deliveries are made promptly and efficiently.

Minter's has observed several anniversary celebrations during the past 48 years. In 1940, to commemorate the 24th anniversary, the management gave away 50 baskets of groceries to holders of lucky tickets. In addition, five Cory coffeemakers were given to Minter's patrons during the eight-day sale, which offered special prices on numerous grocery items.

Today's Minter's is brightly lighted and offers a complete line of packaged food items. Always popular for its meat supplies, Minter's continues to provide individual service to customers seeking special cuts and types of quality meat.

And continuing the custom of the founder, Minter's still offers specialty items during the holidays, with homemade candies, fruit cakes and rare nuts.

MISS HEPBURN EXUDES CHARM, FRIENDLINESS

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Audrey Hepburn is loaded with charm, an essential quality of popular women, and an ingredient that all young girls should cultivate.

When she dropped by a luncheon table for a few minutes, recently, it was like having a good friend you haven't seen for ages drop in for a warming cup of tea.

She is friendly, chatty, interesting, down-to-earth, feminine and intelligent, and above all, she isn't impressed with her importance. She has enthuiasm for everything.

She loves her work and it tozes out in great gushes of conversation but as she points out, "I guess you might say that I make movies the way some people collect postage stamps. There's one going on all the time."

It's that good humored attitude that is praised by all the stars with whom she has worked. Jim Garner has described her as "a wonderful person," and Cary Grant said she is "thoroughly delightful." Her last picture "Charade" was with him.

EAGER TO GO HOME

Being away from her home in Switzerland from time to time is a necessary part of her job, but she is always eager to get home, she says, especially for a holiday occasion. Rubbing her hands together in a gleeful little-girl way, she says, "I like to get there in time to make sure there is going to be a big turkey in the ice box."

Three little books she has bought for Sean, her 3½-year-old son, are the "tiny little books they have for a small child now that are simply wonderful for developing imagination," she explains. She and her husband Mel Ferrer think books sor young children today are so beautiful they should be able to look at them often, "so we built him a low bookcase that he can reach himself," she says beaming.

She dresses her brown hair in a casual gamin but ladylike hairdo — bangs across the forehead, and hair swept up the back. Her white hat is a favorite chignon style, rounded and higher than a pillbox. Her brown eyes are huge, framed in a heavy, natural fringe. She wears makeup so well that you get the impression she isn't wearing it at all.

HAS SKIN PROBLEMS

The simple sleeveless black dress she was wearing revealed boyish, slender arms with a small bit of muscle that probably developed when she was a ballet dancer in Holland where she lived as a child. She was born in Brussels of an Irish-English father and Dutch mother. She plays piano.

Her skin is her No. 1 beauty problem, she confides.

"My skin suffers terribly from movie makeup that I wear srom morning until night when haking movies. I am fighting problems all the time, and when a movie is over I am a mass of blemishes. Different climates create problems too, like the 90 degree humidity of Africa," she explains.

After each movie she has skin treatments and these help get her skin back to normal.

"And usually I can relax for a little while, skating and skiing, and that helps too," she says.

Biologists Set Experiment With All-Female Lizards

By STEPHEN M. AUG

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Biologists at the University of Colorado believe they've discovered an all-female race of lizards.

And to prove they're right, they've set about trying to breed about 70 of the girl lizards without the aid of any boy lizards.

The process of living things breeding without the use of any male is known as parthenogenesis. It does happen occasionally in nature, but mostly among lower forms of life such as wasps, bees and aphids.

Among vertebrate animals it is practically unknown.

Prof. T. Paul Maslin, curator of herpetology at the university's museum, stumbled on his current experiments by accident.

He and several other biologists had gone to Cozumel Island off Mexico's Yucatan peninsula in 1959 to collect lizards for osteological studies.

When he returned to the university Maslin found, upon dissection, that all 76 of one kind of his liards, members of the genus Cnemidophorus, were females.

"At first we though we'd just gotten all females by accident," Maslin says, "but several other trips to Mexico proved that all the lizards we could collect were still females."

Later field trips showed that similar lizards were also to be found in the southwestern United States.

"You can imagine our red faces," Maslin says, "when we realized we had these lizards growing in our own back yards."

FEW HATCH IN LAB

Despite months of experimentation, however, Maslin and his coworkers are still having difficulty hatching baby lizards in their laboratory.

They have hatched about 30 so far, but these represent six species and Maslin says statistically this isn't enough.

"We think one of the reasons we're having so much trouble is that the humidity setup in the lab isn't quite right," says Lou Pennock, a graduate student who is assisting Maslin in the study.

"But," he adds, "we still don't know why."

Maslin explains that in their natural habitat — arid semi-desert climates — the lizards lay eggs and bury them beneath about 18 inches of sand or soil.

BURY EGGS

The tiny — about four-inch — lizards lay their eggs during late June and July, several months before they go into hibernation for the winter. The eggs are about a half inch in diameter. Each lizard lays three to four eggs.

The eggs hatch by themselves in about two months. Maslin believes the eggs are capable of drawing for nourishment what little moisture there is in the desert soil, thus enabling them the remain damp during development.

Maslin has tried to collect eggs in the fields where lizards lay them. "The difficulty is locating the eggs in large numbers and getting them into a warm, moist atmosphere before they dry out," he says.

Just in case any of the lizards kept in terrariums in Maslin's laboratory should decide to lay some eggs, he and his assistants have already prepared "delivery rooms."

These are clear plexiglass boxes tilted slightly toward the rear. If a lizard lays her eggs in the front of the box, the eggs roll to the rear into a wad of damp paper. A lab worker removes the eggs and places them into a plastic sack containing some damp cellulose in hopes the eggs will hatch.

SEVERAL ITEMS TO STUDY

Once Maslin determines that the female lizards really breed by themselves, he has several other studies he wants to complete.

The most important, he says, is quite obviously, how they do it.

By incubating the lizard eggs and raising the young, Maslin hopes to be able to study the embryology of the lizards — changes that take place during their development.

Future studies will also concern heredity. If there is no male element, he explains, then the daughter should be exactly like the mother. Studies here will include analyses of chromosomes — bits of living material that carry the genes which determine heredity.

STUDIES HABITS

Maslin also wants to find out why the lizards are parthenogenic. One possibility, he says, is that by having no males, their strain is kept completely pure and well suited to their habitat.

What effects will environmental changes have on the lizards? Will temperature and humidity changes also change their sex habits? Colors? Shapes?

Maslin plans to introduce changes into their environment. He also may try to induce parthenogenesis in other species of lizards.

Or, conversely, says Maslin, "we may try to introduce similar male lizards into the all-female family and see what develops."

But Maslin's main immediate problem is how to get the lizards to lay eggs and have them hatch in the laboratory to prove conclusively that there is indeed a maleless race.

Liquid Fuel Slows Missile Take-Offs

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) The reaction time of the silo-fired Minuteman intercontinental range missile is 32 seconds, compared with about 15 minutes for the Atlas and Titan ICBMs.

Solid propellant is the secret to Minuteman's quick-strike capability. Atlas and Titan have large nuclear warheads but their liquid fuel is more difficult to handle.

Children Can Take Heat Of Tropics

MACAPA, Brazil (AP) — In this steaming city which straddles the equator and where there is no air-conditioning, office employes work only from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

But while they seek afternoon shade and rest, school children, apparently oblivious to the tropical sun, play soccer for hours in President Vargas Plaza.

Wrong-Way Signs Direct Motorists

MIAMI (AP) — Municipal officials and the Chamber of Commerce of suburban South Miami worked for months to have the State Road Department install signs on busy U.S. 1 showing the direction to the business district.

Finally a road crew installed big, new signs and left.

The signs pointed the wrong way.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

CHILDREN OF JOSIAH (3) SCOTT

It must be confessed that the genealogical and historical data on the family and descendants of the pioneer Hugh (1) Scott is somewhat on the sketchy side side — but — to go fully into detail — bringing the lines of descent down to the present generation would be an almost impossible chore — particularly in a column of this type. To trace the various family lines should not be too difficult — with the information given herein.

The third child and second daughter of Josiah (3) and Violet (Foster) was named Mary and she was born in December, 1767, and died November 26, 1844. She was born while the family lived at Peach Bottom, York County, Pennsylvania, and was only seven years of age when her father and mother emigrated to Washington County, Pennsylvania. On November 2, 1786, Mary (4) Scott married William Cotton (born July 16, 1762 — died March, 1841), the son of Henry and Mary Cotton, who came to Lancaster County, in the province of Pennsylvania, from Ireland in 1749.

HAD 13 CHILDREN

Mary (4) Scott and her husband, William Cotton, were the parents of 13 children — eight sons and five daughters. Three of these did not live to reach maturity.

William Cotton and his wife, Mary (4) Scott, and several of their children are buried in the old Presbyterian Churchyard at Neshannock, Lawrence County.

4. Elizabeth (4) Scott, the fourth child and third daughter of Josiah (3) and Violet (Foster) Scott, was born March 12, 1769, at Peach Bottom, and died March 10, 1841. She was married, on February 4, 1800, to Robert Stevenson, the son of the Hon. John and Mary (Cowan) Stevenson. The husband of Elizabeth (4) Scott was born in 1777 and died April 3, 1862, in Lawrence County.

Nine children were born of the union of Robert and Elizabeth (4) Scott Stevenson — eight sons and one daughter. All, according to a fairly reliable family tradition, lived to maturity — a most unusual bit of good fortune for that day. A walk through any old burial ground will show the number of children who died before reaching their sixth year.

DIED WITHOUT "ISSUE"

5. Jane (4) Scott, the fifth child and fourth daughter of Josiah (3) and Violet (Foster) Scott, did not marry until quite late in life and died without "issue." Her husband was Hugh Workman, but beyond his name nothing is known pertaining to him.

6. Rev. James (4) Scott, the sixth child and second son of Josiah (3) and Violet (Foster) Scott, was born February 22, 1773, and died September 14, 1850. Like his older brother and sisters he was born in York County before the family emigrated to the western part of the state. He was married, on July 3, 1810, to Jane Wilson, the daughter of Captain Archibald Wilson, of Newark, Ohio. Seven children were born to the Presbyterian minister and his wife — four daughters and three sons. Their first child, Josiah Wilson (5) Scott, died in infancy.

7. Josiah (4) Scott, the seventh child and third son of Josiah (3) and Violet (Foster) Scott, was the last born to their marriage. His mother, Violet (Foster) Scott, died shortly after his birth.

Josiah (4) Scott was born November 13, 1775, and died July 28, 1855. He was born in Washington County after the emigration of his family to that place. On January 2, 1806, the second Josiah Scott was married to Sarah Coe (died January 11, 1853), the daughter of Pater and Mary Coe. Six sons and four daughters were born to this marriage. One son, Alexander (5) Scott, died unmarried; another, James (5) Scott, was lost at sea in 1861, and a daughter, Jane (5) Scott, also died unmarried.

MARRIED TWICE

Sometime between 1776 and 1779 Josiah (3) Scott was married, for the second time, to Jane Gordan. Four children were born to them, making a grand total of eleven for Josiah. The last four were all boys as follows:—

8. Hugh (4) Scott, the first son of Josiah (3) and Jane (Gordon) Scott, was born in 1780 and died July 22, 1846. He was married, on March 12, 1807, to Jane Blakney, who died on June 7, 1865.

Hugh (4) Scott lived up to family tradition and fathered 11 children — six sons and five daughters. Four of these, three sons and one daughter, died unmarried.

9. Robert (4) Scott, the second son of Josiah (3) and Jane (Gordon) Scott, was born in 1782 and died September 3, 1830. He was married to Elizabeth Munnel on November 22, 1804. They were the paents of some 12 children, five sons and seven daughters. Mary (5) Scott, the seventh daughter and youngest child, was born February 13, 1830 and was married for the first time, on March 23, 1848, when only 18 years of age, to Elias Stenger. He died before 1857 for in that year his widow married, for the second time, one Andrew Scott. This second husband and an infant son born to the couple died in 1858. Mary (5) Scott - Stenger - Scott married, for the third time, December 24, 1860, the Rev. Joseph McKerahan, who died in 1873. Habits are hard to break and the thrice-bereaved widow was married, for the fourth time, December 8, 1874, to John Wilkin. It is to be asumed that this ended her career in matrimony.

DIED AT 34

10. General Samuel (4) Scott, the third son of Josiah (3) and Jane (Gordon) Scott, was born May 30, 1785, and died October 16, 1819. He was only thirty-four years of age at the time of his death. Samuel married, in 1809, Ann Wylie, the daughter of William and Ellen (Noble) Wylie. Four children, three sons and one daughter, were born to this union and all were quite young when their father died some 10 years after his marriage.

11. John (4) Scott, the fourth and last child of Josiah (3) and Jane (Gordon) Scott, married Isabel Vance. Three daughters and one son were born to this union. During an epidemic of cholera in 1834 the parents, John (4) and Isabel (Vance) Scott, and two of their sons, Josiah (5) and John (5) Scott, all died within a few days of each other.

This concludes, for the time being - at least - the data on the Scott family of Chester, York and Washington Counties, Pennsylvania.

The survey of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard will be continued in this column next week.

NAVY UNABLE TO GUARANTEE SHIPYARD JOBS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Naval officials were urged Tuesday to keep the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard open for business and, if possible, give it more work. But the Navy made no commitments.

After meeting with the Pennsylvania Congressional Steering Committee and a delegation of shipyard workers, Kenneth Belieu, assistant secretary of the Navy, said the Navy can't guarantee against a reduction of jobs at Philadelphia or any other naval shipyard.

He neither confirmed nor denied reports that employment at Philadelphia would be dropped from 8,700 to 8,100 by July.

PANEL STUDY

Belieu said a naval panel studying the government-owned shipyards will consider documents submitted by the shipyard workers outlining the Philadelphia yard's performance.

The Philadelphia group suggested turning the yard into a nuclear submarine repair base. Lewis Bogdanoff, vice president of the Joint Committee for Yard Development, said this could be done for little more than $1 million, compared with the $4 million usually required for such conversion.

Rep. William A. Barrett, D-Pa., suggested the Navy, in determining which yards might be closed, keep in mind the Philadelphia area's unemployment rate, which is now 7.4 per cent of the total working force.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)— Premier Khrushchev is expected to call a summit meeting next month of his allies in the Communist bloc to discuss the ideological dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China, informants in Budapest report.

TALK FLOWING EASILY FOR DIXIE SOLONS

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON AP) — Southern senators are finding it easier than they apparently expected to keep up the flow of talk necessary to prevent a quick vote on the motion to take up the civil rights bill.

In the first two days of debate they had to deliver only ly three of their planned initial round of speeches. So others are still in reserve.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., for example, sent to newsmen Tuesday a copy of a speech he planned to make today. But later his office advised he could not even get the floor until Friday.

SUBJECTS VARY

Supporters of the bill are trying to hold their remarks to a minimum. As usual in the Senate, there are a number of speeches on extraneous subjects.

For example, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, held the fl or for an hour Tuesday, urging that U.S. troops be withdrawn from South Viet Nam.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., prepared a speech for delivery on the war in southeast Asia.

The Dixie senators are organized into the three six-member teams which have served them so well in previous civil rights battles.

TEAMS AT WORK

On the opening day of debate Monday, Sen. Lister Hill, D - Ala., captain of one team, was the only member of that group who had to speak.

Tuesday, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., captain of another team, and one of his associates, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., used up all the available time.

The third team, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was ready to take up the speaking chores Wednesday.

Despite the smoothly functioning Southern performance, leaders of both sides remained confident the foes of the bill would permit the motion to take up the bill to be adopted by the middle of next week.

Lodge's Busy Career Has Been Filled With Unusual Surprises

By ROBERT P. SALMON

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Springing surprises and accomplishing the unexpected is nothing unusual for Henry Cabot Lodge.

It has dotted his career since he went to work for a Boston newspaper as a reporter in 1922. The job was an unusual one for a college student whose ancestry includes six U.S. senators, a secretary of state, a secretary of the Navy and a governor of Massachusetts.

The unusual continued when he earned his degree from Harvard College in three years.

ENTERED POLITICS

The unexpected burst onto the national political scene in 1936 when — as a tall, handsome young man of 34—Lodge won a U.S. Senate seat himself. The man he defeated was the late James Michael Curley, then at the height of a flamboyant career as the incumbent Democratic governor of Massachusetts.

Lodge did the unusual again in 1944, about a year after winning re-election to the Senate, by resigning to enter the Army. The 6-foot-3 Boston brahmin won six battle stars, a bronze star and the Croix de Guerre while serving in Europe with a tank outfit.

WAS ISOLATIONIST

He had been an avowed isolationist before World War II, saying, "This is not our war," even though he was a leader in the preparedness movement.

Afterward he was quick to admit that, "I was 100 per cent wrong."

"The Lodge who came back from the war was not the Lodge who had gone overseas," he said and worked to win Senate approval of the Marshall Plan and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

SUPPORTED IKE

Lodge came out publicly in November 1951, in favor of drafting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination. He was practically alone among the political "big names" who did so—until Ike scored a smashing victory in the 1952 presidential primary in New Hampshire.

Lodge was the leader at the GOP national convention in Chicago that summer, where Eisenhower won the nomination over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Lodge was the prime mover in the campaign which resulted in Eisenhower's November election over Adlai E. Stevenson.

UPSET BY KENNEDY

But while Lodge was working for Ike he was away from his political fences in Massachusetts. A young congressman by the name of John F. Kennedy upset him in the Bay State Senate race and Lodge was out of a job.

He was back on the national scene before long, being named United Nations ambassador in 1953 by President Eisenhower. He became known for his diplomatic yet tough-talking rebuttals to the Soviet Union delegate.

The United Nations was the springboard from which he dived into the Republican vice presidential nomination in 1960. Again he — and Richard M. Nixon — was beaten by John F. Kennedy.

It was the late President Kennedy who asked him if he would accept the post of U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam. Lodge agreed immediately.

STAKES PLAN WINS 3 TO 1

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The New Hampshire Sweepstakes raced to a lopsided victory in a local option referendum held Tuesday in conjunction with the presidential preference primary.

The state - sponsored lottery apparently failed to pile up the 4-1 edge its supporters had hoped for, but the margin of approval was impressive.

With most of the state's 302 precincts reported, the sweepstakes won approval by better than a 3-1 vote.

Tickets for the first race next Sept. 12 will be sold only at the state's three race tracks and in 49 liquor stores in 42 communities.

Sales are expected to begin within the next six days in most stores and may start on Thursday night at Rockingham Park in Salem, lottery officials said.

The state hopes to realize more than $4 million annually from the venture and will distribute the money to schools.

Find Mine Wastes Feeding Into River

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigation by the Department of the Interior and Pennsylvania's Department of Forests and Waters has revealed that a 100-mile stretch of the West Branch of the Susquehanna River is affected by tributaries that carry waste from bituminous coal mines in Clearfield and Cambria counties.

These wastes lessen the value of the river for recreation or domestic use unless treated at their sources, the report noted.

The study also revealed that the river waters are corrosive to ordinary metals and concrete.

TO REDUCE FORCE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Westinghouse Electric Corp. spokesman says "there will be a gradual reduction in the work force" of 7,600 employes at its steam divisions in suburban Lester.

The spokesman, who did not give an estimate of the number of employes to be laid off, said Tuesday the plant now employs 4,600 hourly production workers and 3,000 salary, professional and supervisory employes.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists have concluded that the moon is covered by a "loose porous substance" and that its interior is solid.

The news agency Tass said this conclusion was based on a study of radio waves emanating from the moon.

READING RR'S DEFICIT GROWS

READING, Pa. (AP)—A deficit of $6,485,633 for last year was reported Tuesday by the Reading Railroad. The loss is about 30 per cent greater than in 1962.

The railroad reported the loss on revenues of $98,116,147, compared with a 1962 deficit of $4,916,558 on income of $100,047,400.

Operating expenses last year totaled $86,399,027, compared with $87,177,701 in 1962.

Reading President E. Paul Gangewere said in the annual report that "while we are continuing intensive efforts to develop increased business, the major problem has been to reduce expenses commensurate with the decrease in gross revenue."

He added that the decline in revenues was not confined to Reading alone, but that many railroads in the eastern section of the country have experienced the trend toward lower revenues.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quote of the day: Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, asked by reporters to comment on a Republican claim that the new tax cut might boost the economy in 1964, an election year, but would bring a "bust" in 1965: "Well, I'd rather have it in 1965 than in 1964."

SAYS BARRY IS "IDOL OF WILD"

MOSCOW (AP) — Tass today reported the defeat of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the New Hampsire primaries, calling him the "idol of the wild men."

The Soviet news agency also noted the defeat of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, saying, "This Goldwater in a skirt, as she is called in the United States, collected an insignificant number of votes."

Tass correspondent Leonid Velichansky, in a dispatch from Claremont, N.H., said:

"These results mean, first of all, public condemnation of the adventurist policy advocated by Goldwater during his campaign in New Hampshire state."

Valichansky said Henry Cabot Lodge, the write-in winner of the primary, also favored a tough foreign policy "but not being an official candidate, he did not publicize his home and foreign policy program."

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS — The regular meeting of the York Springs Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist Parish House The theme will be "Dimensions in Knowledge" and each member is invited to bring along some bit of information she would like to share with the group. An invitation is extended to everyone to attend these meetings.

The two youth groups, "The Youth Temperance Council" and "The Loyal Temperance Legion," will meet at the same time and place.

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Moses, director of the New York World's Fair, asked a grocery chain to remove a huge sign advertising its bakery wares because, he said, it was so close to the fairgrounds it looked like a part of the fair.

The company refused.

So Moses ordered a frame, 70 feet high and 160 feet long, erected alongside a highway at the edge of the fairgrounds. It will be strung with pennants.

And, it'll hide the grocery sign.

TNT IS BLAMED FOR SHREDDING NYLON HOSIERY

NEW YORK (AP)—Dynamite is being blamed for the embarrassing and costly disintegration of nylon stockings that has been plaguing women and girls here off and on for 10 years.

Investigators were baffled until staff members of the City Air Pollution Control Department came up with this explanation:

An inspector, hearing blasting at a building site in the financial district of downtown Manhattan, acted on a hunch. He made a test and—the department believes—a major discovery.

RELEASES OXIDES

He reported that exploded dynamite had released nitrogen oxides under conditions most conducive for shredding nylon.

There was an atmospheric inversion through which cold air above held warm air close to the ground. Humidity was high. Dust content in the air was heavy.

All the factors combined to produce nitric acid droplets, which feed on nylon. These droplets ate up stockings.

Arthur J. Benline, air pollution control commissioner, issued new regulations prohibiting blasting when nylon-destroying conditions prevail. He said he would ask the Fire Department to cooperate, because that department issues blasting permits.

Q. How do the Holsum bakers capture the full unique flavor right in every loaf of Gold'n Round Bread?

A. The way any good cook preserves natural food flavor in cooking—by keeping a tight cover on the pan.

That's it. We start with special round baking pans . . . then cover them with tight lids that are kept in place from proofing time right through the entire oven trip. This is the way Gold'n Round's finer flavor is captured securely in every soft, tempting circular slice . . . from oven to you. Each loaf fairly sparkles with baked-in Golden Waves of Flavor—truly marks of distinction that are your assurance of a most unusual and genuinely satisfying taste experience. Enjoy this rare treat—Gold'n Round Bread—today.

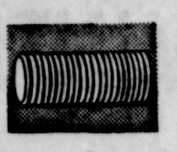
PRECIOUS FLAVOR STARTS WITH PROOFING
And "snap!" go the lids on the round baking pans at just the right moment when the dough is readied for the oven.

OVEN BAKES IN THE LID-CAPTURED FLAVOR
Now the flavor spreads through every pore of the loaf. Circular shape of pans allows equal heat to reach all sides—gives even baking all the way through.

BREAD'S OUT, BUT FLAVOR'S IN TO STAY
Out come the pans from the oven, and only now do the tight lids come off—when we're sure that every bit of flavor has been captured deep inside.

NOW, the beautifully baked golden round loaf (hence the name, GOLD'n ROUND) is ready for slicing, wrapping, and on to your table, absolutely fresh and full of flavor.



Holsum Bread is sold at Minter's and other stores in the area

NEW ENGLAND CHERISHES ITS TOWN MEETING

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

WILMOT, N.H. (AP) — The Greeks invented it. The Pilgrim fathers perfected it. New Englanders still cherish it as the last undiminished, untarnished example of pure democracy in action.

It's called the town meeting and, if you've never witnessed one, your civics education is sadly incomplete. Tuesday's two-hour session in the Town Hall of Wilmot was fairly typical of what takes place in an open assembly where every man has a vote and can say his piece without going through an elected representative.

This village in south central New Hampshire has 276 registered voters—232 Republicans and 44 Democrats. About 70 townfolk braved a howling snowstorm to take their places in the long wooden pews stretching down the length of the plank-floored meeting hall.

VETERAN MODERATOR

On a tiny stage, Moderator Arthur Thompson stood framed by the faded scenery drops of some forgotten elementary school play. A wood chunk stove hissed cozily and from a kitchen beyond came the lovely aroma of creamed chicken being prepared by the ladies of the Grange.

In a scene repeated endlessly across New England, Moderator Thompson called the meeting to order at 9:30 a.m., a calculated half-hour late so snowplows could dig out stragglers. Miss Doris Langley's fifth, sixth seventh and eighth graders trooped in from the school next door to observe democracy in action and joined in the opening saying of the Lord's Prayer.

NEVER USES GAVEL

Thompson, a retired farmer with a marvelously reasonant voice and a splendid guardman's moustache, ran the meeting with an admirable blend of firmness and humor. In 24 years of presiding, he has never had to use a gavel and only once has had to rule a speaker out of order.

"That was a fellow who was delivering a personal attack on another townsman," the moderator said. "We're all neighbors here and everybody knows everybody else."

No such vendettas ripped at the governmental sinews of Wilmot this day. Even debate was noticeably lacking as the townfolk approved a $57,600.67 budget for the coming year, agreed to buy a new highway truck and approved buying a second-hand pumper from the Pembroke Fire Department. Wilmot's old pumper will be sold and the proceeds used for a new siren atop the fire house.

BRITISH QUEEN GIVES BIRTH TO NEW PRINCE

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—Britain broke out its flags and fired 41-gun salutes Wednesday to celebrate the birth of a son to Queen Elizabeth II.

Both the 37-year-old queen and the new prince—her fourth child and third son—were reported doing well. The baby was born Tuesday night at Buckingham Palace, a week earlier than expected. But "it was an easy birth," said Sir John Weir, the royal physician.

"Everything went well; there were no problems," reported the anesthetist, Dr. Vernon Hall.

WEIGHTS 5, 7

The baby weighed 5 pounds, 7 ounces, making him the smallest of the queen's four children at birth.

The queen's husband, Prince Philip, went ahead with plans to represent the queen at the funeral of King Paul of Greece Thursday. The prince arranged to arrive in the Greek capital late this afternoon.

The names to be given the prince were the subject of much public speculation. The favorite was James, in tribute to Scottish Stuart ancestors of the queen. Robert, Rupert and David also were mentioned.

It was the second British royal birth this year. Princess Alexandra, the queen's first cousin, had a son on Feb. 29. Princess Margaret, the queen's sister, expects her second child next month. The Duchess of Kent, Alexandra's sister-in-law, expects her second child in May.

The queen's husband, Prince Philip, 42, telephoned the news of his new son to Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family.

THIRD IN LINE

The new prince is third in line of succession to the throne, behind his brothers, Charles 15, and Andrew, 4. He rates ahead of his sister, Anne, 13.

The baby was delivered by a team of five physicians headed by Sir John Peel, 59, the gynecologist who attended the births of Charles, Andrew and Anne.

It was only the second time since 1857—when Queen Victoria gave birth to Princess Beatrice —that a child had been born to a reigning British sovereign. Andrew was the first.

Lived Week In Snowbound Auto

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Toothpaste, chewing gum and melted snow made up James Currier's diet during a week in his snowbound auto high in the Colorado Rockies.

"Outside of being weak I don't feel bad," Currier said Tuesday.

Two power line inspectors discovered Currier huddled Monday in the back seat of his sedan. He was covered with blankets.

Currier, 37, is an actuarial analyst for a Sacramento, Calif., insurance firm.

PRIMARY VOTE PLEASES LODGE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—"It is a great honor and a great compliment," U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said Wednesday after learning he was the upset victor in New Hampshire's Republican primary election.

Lodge made the statement after returning from a field trip in South Viet Nam. He has been accompanying Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara here on a fact-finding trip.

The ambassador was told of his victory while at Hue, 400 miles north of here.

A U.S. Army officer handed him a note with the primary results. He looked rather grave, folded the note and put it in his pocket.

Asked in Saigon if he was happy, he said, "I'm always happy."

Asked if he planned to leave Saigon, he said, "I do not plan to go to the United States. I do not plan to leave Saigon. I do not intend to resign."

He added: "I am bound by foreign service regulations not to comment. I expect there may be something from the states."

The ambassador has said repeatedly he is not a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. He also has made it plain he would not turn down a draft.

DELAYS ACTION IN HEALTH SUIT

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration, acting on the suggestion of U.S. District Judge William J. Nealon, has dropped a move aimed at temporarily stopping the business activities of the York Bar Bell Co. Inc., York, Pa.

Attorneys for both sides agreed Tuesday that the case should be tried on its merits at a date to be fixed later.

The move was taken after the federal agency agreed to drop proceedings for temporary relief. The later action will be for a permanent injunction.

The FDA originally sought a temporary injunction against the company's distribution of certain health building products and periodicals across state lines. The federal agency contended certain products, such as so-called high protein products, were misbranded.

Town Must Pay For Its Unused Meters

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP)—It has been nine years since Lovell decided to put in parking meters.

But none of the meters, 224 in all, has been installed.

Because businessmen feared they would drive shoppers to other towns, the parking meter ordinance passed in 1955 has been repealed. A firm which supplied the meters for $14,448 fought up to the Wyoming Supreme Court to get its money.

Mayor Cal Taggert said Tuesday the money finally has been paid.

That doesn't mean Lovell intends to put the meters up.

BOOSTER SAYS KENNEDY MOVE WAS OWN IDEA

By DION HENDERSON

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A Milwaukee insurance man who says he was startled by the reaction to his incorporating a Wisconsin political committee to boost Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for vice president, said today that it was all his own idea.

"Honest to God, this isn't any plot," Percy Silver told The Associated Press. "I've never been active in politics at all. But it seems to me Lyndon Johnson is going to run for president this fall, and what's a better ticket than Johnson and Kennedy?"

FILED "DRAFT" PAPERS

Silver filed documents Tuesday to incorporate "The Draft Robert F. Kennedy for Vice President of the United States, Grass Roots, Ground Swell Committee" with the Wisconsin secretary of state in Madison.

Asked if Paul Corbin, who resigned as patronage adviser to the Democratic National Committee last month—reportedly to take a job with the Kennedy family—had any part in the committee, Silver said:

"Who's Corbin? I'm not even a Democrat."

CORBIN RESIGNED

The New York Times reported that Corbin's resignation was traced to President Johnson's belief that Corbin, a onetime Janesville, Wis., advertising man, had engineered the New Hampshire write-in campaign for the attorney general.

Silver said that during a business trip to the West Coast last weekend, "some of my friends and I got to talking and we think there exists in this country a tremendous public sentiment for Bob to be vice president."

Silver said after he filed the articles of incorporation, he heard Kennedy's announcement that he would resign as attorney general after the Nov. 3 election.

"I thought to myself," Silver said, "that this was pretty good timing, for not knowing anything about politics."

Nine Bills Offered To Streamline Constitution

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House is considering a group of bills to streamline the state constitution as recommended by a special governor's commission.

A nine-bill package was introduced Tuesday, bringing the total number of bills submitted to 11. Another bill, dealing with the judiciary, is slated for later introduction.

The commission was named to write piecemeal amendments to the 90-year-old constitution after voters last November defeated a proposal for a convention to rewrite the basic law.

FASTER AMENDING

One of the major proposals in the package would remove the state's $1 million debt limit and abolish financing by all state authorities except the State Public School Building Auth...

The constitution r... ires that all proposed c... onal amendments be ap... by two separately elected legislatures and the voters in referenda. The process takes a minimum of three years.

Under a new proposal a constitutional amendment could be submitted to the voters immediately after it is approved by a vote of two thirds of both houses of the legislature. Proposals receiving majorities, but less than two-thirds approval, would have to go through the legislature twice before going to the voters.

REQUIRE REGULAR REVIEW

Review of the constitution every 15 years, starting in 1981, for possible revisions also would be required.

Another major feature would keep the legislature in session until it reapportions both houses after each census every 10 years. It also would make the legislature a continuing body, like Congress, and keep bills alive for two years instead of just one.

Legislative procedure also would be streamlined by removing the requirement that each bill be read at length on three separate days and permit immediate final consideration of any bill by agreement of 90 per cent of the members of the House involved.

DPI OUSTER

The proposals would spell out positively that the lieutenant governor cannot vote to break tie votes on bills and constitutional amendments.

The Secretary of Internal Affairs, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Superintendent of Public Instruction would be removed as constitutional officers. The offices may be continued at the discretion of the legislature.

In addition, the governor would be given authority to dismiss the Superintendent of Public Instruction at his pleasure.

Another key change would remove the debt limit of 7 per cent of assessed property valuation on municipalities and school districts, and allow the legislature to control such debt.

10,000 GREEK STUDENTS RIOT IN NICOSIA

By HAL MCCLURE

NICASIO, Cyprus (AP) — About 10,000 Greek Cypriot students surged through Nicosia Wednesday shouting slogans against Britain and the United States.

The youths converged on the passing car of the British high commissioner, Sir Arthur Clarke and banged on the doors. Older students and police stepped in and cleared a path for the car.

Turkish warships took to the seas north of Cyprus as the Greek Cypriot government of President Makarios kept up pressure on the Turkish Cypriot minority in this island republic.

Turkish naval units steamed out of Iskenderun Tuesday, destination unknown. Turkish authorities did not say how many vessels left, nor whether any of the troops massed in the area about 100 miles from Cyprus were aboard.

ROUTINE EXERCISE

Similar moves by the Turkish fleet since fighting erupted between the two Cypriot factions last December have been described as "routine exercises."

Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriot minority, appealed to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to dispatch a U.N. peace force quickly to Cyprus to save his people from "annihilation" by Greek Cypriots.

Kuchuk also wired appeals to the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey—the three nations that guarantee the independence of Cyprus under the 1962 treaty.

3-DAY BATTLE

After a three-day battle in the west coast town of Ktima, the Makarios government announced its forces had overwhelmed Turkish Cypriots after a day-long battle in the southwest village of Mallia.

Sporadic shooting continued in Ktima as Greek and Turkish wcypriot officials met to try to shore up the shaky cease-fire that halted fighting there Monday.

Makarios replied Tuesday night to an appeal by Thant for an end to bloodshed with assurances that "every effort is being made to exercise maximum restraint to avoid any act which might worsen the situation in Cyprus."

"It is regrettable, however," Markarios added, "that Turkish extremists are deliberately creating incidents by armed action, endangering public safety and causing friction."

STATE POLICE TO RECEIVE BOOST IN PAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Police Department plans to put a new pay schedule in effect July 1 bringing salaries on the 2,200-man force in line with police agencies of comparable size and scope.

The move first requires approval of the department's new budget by the legislature and authorization by the State Executive Board to enact the compensation plan.

The general feeling is that both will be forthcoming.

Under the proposed plan, a state policeman's sslary and his subsistence allowance would be combined. Presently, an officer receives his base salary plus a $3.75-per-day subsistence allowance.

STUDY IS MADE

Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy felt the system was unsatisfactory. Shortly after he took office a year ago, he ordered a comprehensive study made of salaries paid state police in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Michigan and other states.

Appearing before legislative hearings on Gov. Scranton's proposed 1964-65 fiscal budget, Purdy said:

"This study revealed that the present scale of the Pennsylvania State Police falls far below the states included in the survey."

NEW SYSTEM

Purdy was equipped with statistics to support his proposal for a new salary system. He told the legislators:

"Under the present system, a trooper's salary ranges from $5,423 (including subsistence) to $6,701 ... an increase of only $1,278 over a 25-year span."

He proposed to make the troopers starting salary $5,803.

In six years, those troopers with satisfactory performance ratings would be making $7,407, an increase of $1,604.

Salary increases also would be provided at each of the 11th and 16th years to bring a trooper's maximum at that time to $8,163—an ultimate increase of $2,360.

Similar adjustments are proposed for each rank.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has gone further than it ever has in protecting press freedom to criticize the government. But it took 700 years of American-British history to reach this point.

In a unanimous decision Monday the nine justices said:

Citizens and newspapers don't have to fear damages for libel in criticizing public officials' official conduct, even though the criticism is untrue, unless actual malice can be proved. And that takes some proving.

Nevertheless that attached condition—liability for damages if actual malice is proved—stops short of giving the press a blank check. It stopped too short for three justices: Arthur J. Goldberg, Hugo Black and William O. Douglas.

MUST PROVE MALICE

They would have gone all the way and given newspapers an absolute privilege in criticizing public officials. This was the thinking behind the decision which was written for all nine by Justice William J. Brennan.

So long as a newspaper has to fear a damage suit, because something it says may be in error, it is discouraged from freely exercising its right under the Constitution to criticize the government.

Therefore, truth no longer has to be proved, only malice does.

The press rot to this point over a tortured road going back to the 13th century in Britain when freedom was the special privilege of kings and the excuse for suppressing any criticism was the need to preserve government.

STIFF RESTRICTION

Any critic of the king could be jailed, branded, tortured, or executed. Gradually, as the British people inched toward freedom, came censorship and near the end of the 16th century a licensing system was devised.

This was a stiff restriction. No book could be published without a license. Even by the middle of the 17th century the number of presses and printers was limited. It was a crime even to criticize a magistrate.

There was an excuse for this, too: to prevent the public from getting the impression the king's servants were corrupt. After licensing was abandoned a restriction was used: a tax on printing.

LOTS OF PANIC

This was to gag the press and ruin small papers. Eventually, the truth of a criticism became a sufficient defense. The British didn't reach that point until the middle of the last century.

The United States reached it earlier but only after a lot of pain. The British colonial governors carried Britain's press restrictions with them here. The colonies went through the same routine: licensing, censorship.

The governor's grip was so tight a colony might have only one newspaper or none.

Even with the framers of the American Constitution, what we now call the Bill of Rights—the first 10 amendments guaranteeing, among other things, freedom of speech and press—was an afterthought.

TRUTH BECAME DEFENSE

It wasn't even discussed until the constitutional convention was almost over. Then, after the states approved the Constitution, the Bill of Rights was added. Even here the bitter lessons were learned the hard way.

In 1798 the new American government ignored the Bill of Rights when Congress approved the Alien and Sedition Acts. One of them made it a crime to publish "false, scandalous or malicious material" against the government.

Although those acts only lasted until 1801, 10 persons were convicted under them. From then on truth became a defense. But through the years the Supreme Court see-sawed on press freedom, always holding to restraints.

This week's decision was truly a landmark because now the American press has less restriction than ever in criticizing government officials. This applies, of course, only to their official acts, not their private ones.

THIRST FOR KNOWLEDGE

Universities Under Pressure Everywhere England, France Have Their Troubles

By JIM DAN HILL

THE RISING DEMAND for higher education is not restricted to America. It is world wide. Moreover, the higher education demands are running ahead of post war birthrate ratios.

In some countries where there has been little or no post war birthrate increase, the higher education crisis is often more acute than it now is within the United States.

In England, there was a slight upturn in the birthrate curve about 1950. There has also been a slight upward trend since 1960, but English educators consider them negligible factors in their current educational problems.

And the English people do indeed have many educational problems. Most of them are at levels beyond what we would call the Ninth Grade. They are most difficult through the college and university levels.

In their customarily patient manner, the English are doing something about it. They would be the last to admit it, but some of their new ideas and most recent trends appear to be remarkably American in scope and practice, but always with strange terminology. For example, the sectioning of pupils and students according to learning abilities is called "streaming."

IN PARIS, for centuries the cultural capital of Western civilization, the picture is most ugly.

France, like England, has about 20 universities. Most of them have historic origins and are steeped in traditional practices. These, combined with reluctance to pay the price of progress, appear to be the source of French troubles.

Since 1946, the population of France is up; 46 million now compared with 40 then. It is due almost exclusively to lower annual death rates and somewhat higher birth rates. In any event, the problems of French universities in general, and of Paris in particular, can hardly be blamed upon a mass of pupils who have not yet reached college and university ages.

Today there are only 300,000 students enrolled in the 19 universities of France — not an impressive ratio with reference to population.

But it so happens that France has so neglected the provincial universities that nearly half of the 300,000 French university students are crammed into the University of Paris; which, in turn, is centered upon the hide-bound, tradition ridden and undernourished Sorbonne. This ancient center was chartered in 1252 by a French queen whlie the king was absent on a crusade to free the Holy Land.

It is a safe bet that one or more basic provisions of that original, antiquated, royal authorization are still operative. The French are an enthusiastic people for revolutions at the top. They are most reluctant toward drastic changes at the bottom.

STUDENTS in Paris, however, are not organizing and striking against historic provisions and outmoded practices nearly so much as they are outraged by the waste of their time and money through the utter lack of library and laboratory facilities. There is also the non-availability of competent teachers in sufficient numbers to offer real instruction.

Individual reading and attendance at lectures are pretty much the sources of all Sorbonne knowledge. Only the elite get much laboratory experience where some personal attention is necessarily given the student. Progress toward degrees for everyone is a series of hurdles in the form of exhaustive and exhausting examinations.

Students never have opportunity to question a professor for clarification or for suggestions as to further readings on some aspect of a lecture. How could such be possible where the largest lecture hall of 2,500 seats has standing room only for such of the 4,000 enrolled for the course as may arrive early enough to find standing room.

A good correspondence course, backed up by adequate library facilities, would get the job done better. But correspondence courses are not always the cheapest. There are limits as to the number of students one teacher can handle in that manner.

But in Europe generally and in France in particular there is a reluctance to pay the price of higher education in either the one form or the other. This condition is back of the recent Parisian students that required 4,500 policemen to quell. There was the normal score of bruises and abrasions.

HIGHER EDUCATION enrollments in the United States are likewise running well ahead of the birth rate wave, though this fact is too seldom recognized.

England has recently opened five new universities. Existing universities and technical institutes are being expanded. France is being forced to do something for higher education.

With such thirst for knowledge in these older nations, one may well imagine the demands in the emergent nations where there has been a taste of knowledge but where actual facilities are not merely inadequate; they are nonexistent.

WRITER DIES

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Walter Archer Frost, 88, prominent short story writer and novelist, died at the Newton Baker Veterans Hospital here Tuesday night.

A former resident of Waynesboro, Pa., Frost was born in Amenia, N.Y., in 1876. He was graduated from Harvard University in 1901 and the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1905.

ROME (AP) — The suburban villa where Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius is believed to have been born in 12 A.D. has been discovered in excavations for a hospital.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

VIET NAM POLICY: U.S. officials said today the South Viet Nam government plans major changes in its strategic hamlet program to help speed the war against Communist guerrillas. They said the new program would include:

—Reducing to a minimum the number of forced relocations of peasants into strategic hamlets.

—Payment of compensation to peasants required to leave their homes to enter the fortified hamlets.

—Providing not only security but economic and social benefits quickly and effectively to areas that have been cleared of Viet Cong guerrillas.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK: Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says business investment is expected to climb to a record $43.2 billion this year.

His prediction at a news conference Tuesday was backed up by figures released by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The SEC said a survey it carried out with the Commerce Department indicated business spending on new plants and equipment would increase $4 billion—or more than 10 per cent—above the $39.22 billion in 1963.

Business investment is considered one of the most important indicators of the economy's health because investment in new plants and equipments creates new jobs.

MARINE BLUES: If the Marines adopted Rep. Daniel Flood's suggestion that they dress the part of a gung-ho outfit it would cost them a pretty penny to garb all the Leathernecks in glamorous blues.

The Pennsylvania Democrat, confronted by Marine officers in their regulation green at a House committee hearing, told them: "You're a gung-ho outfit—everybody thinks you are—and I don't know why you don't dress the part, as we used to saw in show business."

He urged they wear the dress blues "every place they appear in public."

The blue uniforms are not now issued except for special duty. According to Marine figures it would cost $42.19 to provide the blue blouse, trousers and hat for each of the 174,000 enlisted Marines. The 16,000 officers would have to spend $30 or so for uniforms out of their own pockets.

The Dominican Republic mills more than a million tons of sugar a year, in addition to growing huge crops of cacao beans, coffee, rice, peanuts and tobacco. Cattle raising also is a big industry.

SHOWDOWN ON UC PROPOSALS SEEN FRIDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Republicans have set Friday as the target date for a showdown on Gov. Scranton's un employment compensation program, but still face uncertainty within their own ranks.

At least one Republican, Sen. Paul L. Wagner, R-Schuylkill, indicated that he is undecided at this point whether to vote for or against the bill.

Wagner said he would not be ready to announce his final decision until Thursday after conferring with the Schuylkill County delegation in the House.

NO SPARE VOTES

At the same time, majority leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, hinted some unrest Tuesday when he reported that final action would be put off until Friday to give some Republicans a chance to take another look at the UC proposals.

With only a minimum constitional majority of 26 votes in the Senate, Republicans can afford no defections.

Berger said he has taken no "nose count" yet, but hopes to have the votes by Friday. Republicans are pressing to bring the bills to a vote before Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, R-Lebanon, leaves for a two-week trip to Europe next Tuesday.

BATTLE BEGINS

Senate Democrats opened their battle Tuesday to block passage of the controversial administration program by forcing the bills to be read for almost two hours.

The minority turned to a rarely-observed constitutional mandate that requires all bills to be read at length on the floor. The UC package totaled 55 pages including complicated phrasing and amendments.

Veteran Senate reader Robert Hoke of Millersburg, his voice cracking from weariness, spent an hour and 45 minutes reading the bills before Minority Whip William J. Lane, D-Washington withdrew the request. Minority Leader Charles R. Weiner, D-Philadelphia, said Democrats expect to offer at least 14 amendments Friday.

RUMOR HOLDOUTS

Meanwhile, rumors continued t. circulate that the GOP was faced with holdouts.

Wagner, representing a heavy industrial area, said his position has been to remain noncommittal "until we feel we are as close to a final printing of the bill as we can be."

"Then we (the Schuylkill County delegation) will confer on the bill and take our position. We have neither approved the bill or disapproved it."

However, he did say the five major revisions written in by the Senate Labor and Industry Committee earlier this week "makes it a lot easier to vote for."

"I feel the bill is getting pretty close to being a good piece of legislation," added the veteran lawmaker who is up for re-election this year. But, he said there are "angles" he still needs to study.

The UC bills reached the Senate floor Tuesday morning after a month of study and revision by the Senate Labor and Industry Committee.

Sen. Clark Denies Democrat Charge

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., has been accused by the Philadelphia Democratic organization of trying to re-elect Republican Hugh Scott to the Senate in November's election. Clark denied it.

The organization issued a statement Tuesday saying that Clark is backing Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt for the senatorial nomination because he "desires to see" the Democrats defeated. It was signed by City Democratic Chairman Francis R. Smith and four Philadelphia congressmen.

In Washington, Clark called the statement a personal attack against him and questioned how many Philadelphia congressmen had authorized Smith to issue it.

CHIEF SAID CONFESSION MADE NO SENSE

QUEBEC AP) — A Royal Commission hearing was told Tuesday that the former chief of the Quebec Provincial Police found it impossible to believe that an Indian named Francis Thompson had confessed to the murder of three Pennsylvania hunters in 1953.

Retired Police Chief Leon Lambert, 75, said when Miami police told him of Thompson's confession in 1958, he said, "It's impossible. It makes no sense because the one who was found guilty was hanged 2½ years ago."

Lambert testified at the fifth day of an inquiry into the trial of Wilbert Coffin, hanged after being convicted of murder in the shooting of Richard Lindsey, 17, Eugene Lindsey, 47, Richard's father, and Frederick Claar, 20, also were killed. All were from Hollidaysburg, Pa.

LATER RETRACTED

Thompson told Miami police in 1958 he killed the hunters, but he later retracted the statement. He is expected to be called as a witness at the hearing.

Lambert said the matter was closed as a result of a "common decision" after a questionnaire was sent to Miami by telephone to test Thompson's knowledge of the affair.

Raymond Dqoust of Montreal, representing Jacques Hebert, who wrote a book that spurred the inquiry into the case, asked whether the telephone questionnaire was normal procedure.

MYSTERIOUS NOTE

Lambert replied that if the answers Thompson gave to the questions sent to Miami had indicated he was serious, police would have been sent down.

Another witness, photographer Maurice Edwards, 37, Quebec City, testified he once took a picture in the police station that included a tattered note, but he hadn't seen the note.

He was the third witness to deny having seen a note which Hebert described as a possible alibi for Coffin because it was signed by one of the slain hunters and dated June 13, 1953—a date when Coffin was in Montreal.

Updike's Story Wins Book Award

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Centaur," by John Updike, a touching story of a father and a son in a small Pennsylvania town, won the $1,000 prize of the National Book Awards Tuesday, as the most distinguished fiction of 1963.

The winning novel is an unusual bit of counterpoint between the mortal and immortal worlds of Olinger, Pa., and Greek mythology.

Updike was born in Shillington, Pa., in 1932, and often uses rural Pennsylvania scenes in his works. He now resides in Ipswich, Mass.

Supermarket Hit By Tossed Bomb

HARRISBURG (AP) — A supermarket in the West Shore suburb of Hampden Twp. was damaged early Wednesday by what police believed to be a bomb hurled from the window of a passing car.

No one was injured.

The explosion blew out a six-foot section of planter wall along side the Weis Market and shattered seven large plate - glass windows.

Township Police Chief Leonard Lotrick, directing the investigation, quoted a nearby resident as saying she saw a car speeding from the scene after hearing the blast.

NAACP To Study State Schools

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A study will be made of teacher and pupil discrimination and the quality of programs in all Pennsylvania schools, says Henry R. Smith, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Smith, a Pittsburgh attorney, said Tuesday all of the state NAACP's local branches are participating in the study and he hopes to have reports by next September.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Voters rejected Tuesday a controversial open housing ordinance that would have made racial and religious discrimination in the sale or rental of dwellings illegal.

The measure was defeated by a two-to-one margin during the city's general election. The vote was 112,448 against to 53,453.

Backers of the ordinance indicated the battle had just begun. One Negro pastor said: "I think we're in for a long, hot summer."

Publishers Push New Books On Kennedy, Johnson Family

NEW YORK (AP) — The book publishing world is in the midst of an urgent drive to bring out new books related to Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

Between now and May nearly a score of new titles will reach the bookstores.

These efforts come on the heels of tremendous public response to the publication in January of "The Torch Is Passed. . ." by The Associated Press. Within a month of its announcement, orders totalled over 1,500,000 copies, setting some sort of a record.

It is a hard cover, 10 by 13-inch edition containing 100 pages of text and pictures, some in color, memorializing the assassination of President Kennedy.

The text, prepared especially for this book, was written in a dramatic and moving style by a team of AP writers who were among those covering the assassination and its aftermath.

Also published in January was "Four Days, The Historical Record of the Death of President Kennedy," based on pictures and dispatches of United Press International, selected and edited by executives of UPI and American Heritage Magazine.

Here are other major developments in this field:

— Biographers have been busy, and still are, writing about the new President and the new First Lady.

— The late President's "Profiles in Courage" has been having a third run in the booksellers' shops, and a memorial edition is scheduled.

— A final book of Kennedy speeches and statements is in prospect, along with new volumes on his administration and his family.

JOHNSON BIOS

Among the biographies of President Johnson still to come is one being written for Houghton Mifflin by William S. White, who has known Johnson for seval decades. White won a Pulitzer prize in 1955 with his biography of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Farrar, Straus brought out in recent weeks an expanded and updated version of Booth Mooney's "The Lyndon Johnson Story," first published in 1956. The first new Johnson biography to reach the market was an original paperback issued in December by Popular Library, written by free lancer Henry A. Zeiger.

Atheneum will brinb out this month "A Time for Action," a collection of President Johnson's writings and speeches on public affairs since 1953, when he became minority leader of the U.S. Senate.

An authorized biography of Mrs. Johnson will be published in April by Holt, Rinehart & Winston. The author is Washington columnist Ruth Montgomery and the title will be "First Lady."

Random House will publish some time this spring a biography of the new First Lady, written by Marie Smith of the Washington Post.

In the paperback field, McFadden-Bartell is planning an original item titled "Lady Bird Johnson." The authors are Helen Baldwin of the Waco (Tex.) Times - Herald and Frances Spatz Leighton.

BY JFK

President Kennedy's own books will be supplemented in May, when his publishers, Harper & Row, bring out "The Burden and the Glory," a selection of his speeches and statements from the fall of 1961 to the time of his death.

It will be edited by historian Allan Nevins, and will have a foreword by President Johnson. The publishers will contribute any profits to the John F. Kennedy Library to be established at Cambridge, Mass., and the editor's royalties will go to the Oral History Office of Columbia University.

An expanded version of a Kennedy pamphlet, "A Nation of Immigrants," once published by the Antidefamation League, also will be brought out by Harper. Kennedy had been working on this at the time of his death.

The memorial edition of "Profiles in Courage" is due from the same publishers this month, with a special introduction by Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy. The latter's earnings will go to the Kennedy Library. All of the publisher's profits from the memorial edition will be used to establish a John F. Kennedy Memorial Award in Biography and History. The award will total $10,000, of which $8,000 will be a guarantee against the winning author's earnings.

"Profiles in Courage" was a best seller in 1956 and 1957, winning the Pulitzer Prize in the latter year. It hit the best sellers list again in 1961, after the inauguration.

KENNEDY TRIBUTES

Still in process are new books on the Kennedy theme.

Jim Bishop had spent four days at the White House in October, and had just completed "A Day in the Life of President Kennedy" for Random House at the time of the assassination. It will be published in March. For later publication, Bishop has signed a contract with Random for "The Day Kennedy Was Shot," in a format similar to his "The Day Lincoln Was Shot."

In April Farrar, Straus will issue "The John F. Kennedys: A Family Album," by photographer, Mark Shaw, with 150 pictures of the family, taken over a period of four years.

For early spring release the Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., is planning "A Tribute to John F. Kennedy," containing many articles from newspapers, magazines, radio and television, with the net profits going to the National Cultural Center in Washington.

Two books on similar themes also are in prospect. "Mr. Kennedy and the Negroes," by Harry Golden, is scheduled for late March by World Publishing. Shortly to be published is "The Kennedy Years and the Negro," from Johnson Publishing Co.

In March, Monarch Books has scheduled Abner Hirsch's "The Magnificent Kennedy Women."

In late April or May New American Library will bring out Richard J. Whalen's "The Founding Father. The Story of Joseph P. Kennedy," the late President's father.

FUN WITH FATHER — Prince Hiro finds his father, Japanese Crown Prince Akihito, a willing playmate as they arm wrestle on floor of their Togu Palace home in Tokyo. The four-year-old boy's mother, Crown Princess Michiko, is an interested spectator.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dion Anthony Fay, 31, adopted son of comedian Frank Fay, wasn't left anything in Fay's will but he's going to get $43,153 from the estate.

Superior Court of Los Angeles so ordered Tuesday in approving the final accounting of Fay's executor.

Fay, who died in 1961, had willed his estate to a hospital and a church. The estate was estimated at $216,869, but taxes, debts and legal expenses reduced it to $93,153.

The 100,000 residents of Innsbruck, Austria, and those of the neighboring communities of Iglis, Lizum and Seefeld prepared for the 1964 Winter Olympics since 1960.

CLERKS CHECK CO-WORKERS

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — For all you know the pleasant sales clerk who helped you select the exactly right shade of gloves to match your suit is a counter spy. Some of the clerks are.

She is not watching you, though. The department store detectives are probably doing that.

She may be adding up evidence against a slippery fingered coworker with whom she lunches daily in the employe cafeteria.

Or she may squeal soon on the handsome buyer in infantswear with whom she flirts outrageously.

For she, with the fake name and the phony background, is one of dozens of undercover operators provided by a shortage controls company here.

Chic, personable, and knowledgeable about nearly all aspects of retailing, these lady agents specialize in ferreting out personnel who in one way or another pocket the store's profits.

The length of time on a job varies from a few days to several months. The cases cover everything from the petty pilfering of a part-time employe to the grand larceny of the president's grandson.

Although the teen-age crowd works cheaper, says tall, shapely blonde Miss X, their fingers are stickier than their seasoned God - and - detective - fearing seniors. Their thefts are minor at first but they quickly grow into alarming and expensive proportions.

Nor are these charming counter spies particularly dazzled by success. To the contrary, the clerk with unswerving customer loyalty may very well be the object of their suspicions. Very often, says Miss X, the sales lady owes her popularity to huge unauthorized discounts.

Their collusion with the customers is easily accomplished by remarking or switching sales tags. The clerk profits by her commission and the stores lose plenty.

Unfortunately, Miss X and the others in her unique occupation become extremely fond of some of the people they are paid to spy upon. Indeed, ratting on the buyer boyfriend has wrecked some potentially beautiful romances.

"That's the really heartbreaking part of this job," says Miss X, heaving a sigh. "But our loyalty belongs to the store."

NEW ORLEANS AP) — Dr. Courtney Werner, 68, well - known geologist, died Tuesday in his home.

Color Creates Moods In Spring Room Colorings

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
County Home Economist

With spring near at hand, many homemakers begin thinking about room colors. More than any other factor, color can establish the mood of a room.

MRS. TUNISON

Although there are no absolute rules for the use of color, these observations may help you.

Small rooms can be made to appear larger and the walls higher if you cover them with colors of light values and intensity. Also a room will appear larger if the wall color is close in value and intensity to draperies, woodwork, and furnishings.

Colors stand out if they contrast in color or value with other furnishings in a room. Also if a color is used in large amount, such as for walls or ceilings, or in a well-lighted area, it is more pronounced. Off-white, which has the capacity to reflect color, has been used in many attractive county homes.

To get the full effect of a color, check it under different types of light. Daylight with sunlight affects color, usually making it lighter in value. On days when the sun doesn't shine, the same color may appear darker. Artificial light often changes a color completely unless a white light is used.

Whatever color you choose, you are creating a background for your furnishings and the persons who will live in the room. Chances are you'll want the room to be pleasing for daytime use and relaxing for the evening hours.

The soft suit steps smartly into spring in cardigan-styled two-tone tweed with co-ordinated silk overblouse.

FISH IN LENTEN MEALS

During Lent, include more fish in family meals. Like eggs and cheese, fish is a versatile food that serves as an excellent meat alternate.

Fish and other seafoods are excellent sources of high-quality protein. Many kinds of fish are lean; they have a low to very low fat content. This combination of high protein and low fat content makes fish a boon to the weightwatcher.

Today's market offers many forms of fish and seafoods. In some stores you can buy fresh fish. At most stores frozen, canned, dried, and smoked fish are available for your selection. Further variety is possible through preparation. You may bake or fry fish, or use it in casseroles, salads, or chowders. Many persons tend to overcook fish. To get a moist, tender delicately flavored product, cook fish only until you can easily flake the flesh from the bones.

Recipe:

FISH IN SOUR CREAM

(4 servings)

1 pound fish — haddock or cod
3 tablespoons sour cream

Place fish portions in a baking dish, coat fish with commercial sour cream and bake about 15 minutes in 325 degree oven until tender.

EGGS HAVE VALUES

Eggs have certain cultural meanings as well as nutritional value.

Early Christians used colored eggs to symbolize the Resurrection. Even earlier, painted or dyed eggs were used with special meaning during spring festivals. In China, colored eggs were given to friends as gifts. In Persia, travelers gave dyed eggs as presents to everyone they met, friend or stranger.

In this country, colored eggs are still important at Easter. Egg coloring is a family activity in many homes. If you plan to color eggs for Easter use eggs with white shells. They take dyes better than brown shells do.

Color of the shell has nothing to do with the nutritive value of an egg. Whether shells are white or brown, eggs are a valuable source of protein, vitamin A, and iron. It's good practice for each family member to have an egg a day or at least three to five eggs a week.

When shopping for eggs, buy only those that have been refrigerated. As soon as you get eggs home, put them in a covered container in the refrigerator. Store eggs with the large end up and be sure to keep them away from foods with strong odors.

Frying apple rings in butter or bacon fat? Sprinkle with a little sugar and cinnamon as the apples cook. You can make up the sugar-cinnamon mixture to have on hand to use as a topping for French toast, buttered toast and muffins as well as for the apple rings.

SOFT TOUCH IS NEW TREND IN TEENER SHOES

For the teen-ager, the newest trend in footwear is the "pretty" look. Soft, feminine styling in a variety of stunning, supple leather textures — smooth, suede, grained, patent, brushed and waxy — is calculated to make the liveliest teen tomboy convert into a lady.

The young shoe look has softened all the way down the line, reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

From glove leather mocs to polished leather dress pumps, teen toes are shod in footwear delicately touched with graceful openings, tiny perforations, elegant bows and many other fashion details. Lightweight leathers make these spring shoes as airy in feeling as they are in appearance.

COLOR NO PROBLEM

Color selection should pose no problem for the shoe-buying teen-ager. The color line this spring is a flowing one, not at all rigid. Anything goes — soft pastels, clear dramatic tones, or subtle neutrals. The colors of her spring clothes impose the only limits to her choice of shoe shades.

Study halls and soda shops provide a showcase for smart leather shoe styles. Grained leather strap pumps, pale glove-leather mocs with pinhole perforated trim, and brushed leather booties with split throatlines swing down school corridors. Spring's leather boots look flatteringly feminine.

T-STRAP FLATS

Perched on malt-shop stools, shoe-happy show-offs display delicate T-strap flats in fine grained leather, multi-colored suede kiltie sling-backs, and smooth leather pumps in bright colors with discreet buckles or bows. These leather lovelies cradle the foot comfortably, and boast flexible leather soles for needed support and protection.

Going all-out for the romantic look are leather dress shoes for those red-letter dances and dates. Sling-backs and stripping sandals are devastating in refined smooth and lustre leathers, kitten-soft suede, sleek patent leather and very fine-grained leathers.

Leather pumps cut low at sides or front, or opened up at the sides, are sometimes untrimmed, sometimes adorned with old - fashioned jeweled buckles or large flat bows.

Top Spring Styles For New Mothers

This spring's mother-to-be will be the prettiest in years, if it's up to designers of maternity fashions. Simple, uncluttered lines combined with emphasis on unusual fabrics and flattering pastels keynote styles for mothers.

The one piece dress, rather than choppy, distracting separates, is the favorite of future mothers for spring. Jumper, shift and A-line styles, so popular in regular fashion apparel, have been translated for maternity wear.

Easy, slenderizing styles with sleeve and hemline interest feature welt seaming, unusual collars and empire influence. Short sleeves are popular, as are lowered and V necklines.

Delicate mauves, whites and flax, as well as black and white combinations and checks spark spring maternities, as do textured, nubby and silk - look fabrics.

Big news for the smaller woman is the advent of petite sizes in maternity wear.

O'Connor Changes Novel To Fit Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Edwin O'Connor, a novelist doubling for the first time as a playwright, gives priority to thespic needs in "I Was Dancing."

He developed the story initially for the stage, then cast it in book form, doing tinkering in the transition.

"In writing a play," he explains, "a novelist has to learn what to leave out. The play is to be produced as originally written. It's the novel that I've changed around."

Garson Kanin has optioned the script for presentation next season. The novel is to be published this spring.

This homemade, 34-starred American flag, said to be the first civilian flag to be flown in Gettysburg after the Union victory here July 3, 1863, was presented to the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening. The flag was given by Daniel A. Skelly Jr., Gettysburg, son of Daniel A. Skelly, Sr., who flew the emblem from a second story window of the Fahnestock building at Baltimore and Middle Sts., as victorious Union troops re-entered the town. Mr. Skelly was an employe of the Fahnestock store in 1863.

Texas Bridge Is Wired For Sound

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Texas highway bridge has been wired for sound in an experiment that may influence the construction of an estimated 28,000 bridges yet to be built on the 41,000-mile-long Interstate Highway System.

More than 100 electronic sensors have been embedded in the experimental bridge to measure the stress and strains set up by the thousands of trucks and automobiles that will roll over it. The Hillsboro, Tex., bridge is a new design structured wholly of reinforced concrete. Crucial to its success are high-strength reinforcing bars that sinew the concrete.

Robert F. Baker, director of research of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, said that the high-strength steel reinforcing bars used in the bridge deliver greater strength per pound of metal, thereby reducing the amount of steel required by 30 per cent. He said if the experimental design proves successful, it will enable the government to save an estimated 10 per cent in bridge construction throughout the country.

Cadillac

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

The three pictures above illustrate one reason for their enthusiasm. The top car is a 1963 model . . . the center car is a 1962 Cadillac . . . and the lower car is four years old. The styling through the years has evolved and refined, but each is unmistakably a Cadillac.

These owners share a common knowledge. Not even most new motor cars offer the degree of pleasure and reliability that come with a previously owned Cadillac.

First, there is Cadillac's renowned craftsmanship, which results in a car of unusual endurance.

Next, consider value. The equipment on a Cadillac of older vintage is still extra cost on most new cars . . . and includes such features as Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, power windows on most models . . . plus many Cadillac engineering advancements that still have not found their way into other new 1964 cars.

And don't overlook Cadillac's reputation for operating economy—comparable to many smaller cars.

So when you make your next motor car investment, new or used, consider only one name—Cadillac.

LIGHTER LOOK IN MEN'S SUITS IS RETURNING

The trend to lighter colors in men's suits, heralded last year by the return to popularity of silver grays, has gathered real momentum for the spring and summer of 1964, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. The emphasis on lighter colors is so strong that it virtually dominates the style scene. It is evident in all three types of clothing: Traditional; conventional and high style.

In both the high-style and conventional suits many of the new lighter colors will have a definite iridescence. Those shimmery surfaces are achieved in the weaving of the cloths by using yarns of one color in the warp (the length of the fabric) and of another color in the filling (the width).

Some of the iridescents are brilliantly obvious, others more subtle. The colors range from the very popular light grays to combinations of green and blue, blue and gold, tan and olive, blue and gray, as well as many others.

DARKS CORRECT

Traditional natural - shoulder suits, while avoiding the iridescents for the most part, also swing to the use of lighter colors. The traditionals also use lighter grays, olives, tans, blues and myriad mixtures of the same.

The trend to lighter colors, however, does not obviate the wearing of darks. There are, of course, times and occasion when dark suits are both correct and desirable. Nevertheless, darks will no longer dominate the style picture and men will welcome the opportunity to add wardrobe spice and variety.

In both the conventional and high-style suits the trend to two-button suits also continues and and increases. The high-styles use both the high placement and regular placement of the two buttons while the conventional group prefers the regular stance with the top of the two buttons placed near the natural waist line.

The vast majority of traditional suits will continue in the three-button model; and there are still quite a few one-button suits for the warm weather seasons. The latter are found mostly in the high-style models.

While many changes have been made in existing models, they are in construction rather than in style. For instance, designers have maintained the much wanted trim lines of current styles while providing more room in the interior for added comfort and freedom of movement.

LEATHER IS FRESH APPEAL IN NEW STYLE

The romance that is spring is reflected this year in the world of leather fashion. Softly-styled leather suits, jackets, dresses and coats have a fresh, feminine look that will appeal to every woman with a streak of romance in her nature . . . and which one hasn't?

The total apparel picture puts femininity into soft focus, reports Leather Industries of America. Dresses and suits are moving closer to the body. Colors are pale, or bright and clear.

Whether the silhouette clings or flows, leathers are light, mobile, supple. Sleek, smooth and grained leather, velvety suede leather, glistening lustre leather and gleaming patent leather are available in an eye-filling parade of graceful costumes.

LIGHT SUEDE

In lightweight suede and smooth leathers, stunning two and three-piece ensembles are tailored to enhance the wearer. Pastel suede blazer jackets bound in smooth leather team with matching slim skirts.

Back are double-breasted suits in leather with their own leather scarves to tie or tuck in at the throat. Pretty leather-and-silk combinations are available — case in point: A raw silk blouse with leather skirt and a leather vest trimmed with silk applique.

Spring coats in exciting leather textures and a full range of colors offer a variety of silouettes — fitted, arrow-traight or A-line. Mostly full-oats feature many individual ouches, such as unusual buttons, contrasting leather piping r binding, self-ties or sashes, nd varied neckline treatments.

Although shifts and A-lines re still on the scene, the empire dress is most important o the new look. With its emhasis on the bust-line, the eather empire is quietly devstating in delicate shades of each, lemon or sand. The versatile two-piece dress is seen with slim, A-line or draped skirt, and fitted or crop top.

Leather separates accomplish wonders in the wardrobe-stretching department. Easy jackets in buttery suede and supple grained leathers lead many lives. Straight-cut or semi-fitted, they cover the spring scene in tandem with pants.

Other smart leather separates include overblouses, skirts and pants.

EXPERT USES XMAS LIGHTS TO TAME MINK

By FRANK KNOX

EAST LANSING, Mich., (AP) — Dr. Philip J. Schaible is using tranquilizers and Christmas tree lights in his research on an unsociable animal that occupies a top nich in society — the mink.

The Michigan State University professor's study, which is aimed at reducing mink-ranching costs, follow two distinct lines:

Using the tranquilizing drug reserpine, which is extracted from the roots of the snakeroot plant, Schaible has reared minks in colonies rather than in their normal ranch habitat, individual cages.

With artificial lights, he has changed the animals' mating patterns, prompting the birth of litters earlier and later than the usual May 1 whelping date.

COUNTED BITE MARKS

The tranquilizers were partially successful in quieting the normally vicious minks, Schaible reports.

He and his associates, Richard Aulerich, Robert Ringer Gordon Shelts, all of MSU, measured relative friendliness by counting the bite marks in the pelts.

They found significantly fewer bite marks among the drugged animals in comparison to a normally fed control group. But they still were unsatisfied because even a few marks reduce a pelt's value.

Another experiment was tried, using higher dosages of reserpine, but some bite marks still were found and several animals died when fed too much of the drug.

SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS

Schaible believes that successful colonization may still be achieved, perhaps by using an optimum amount of reserpine.

The savings for the rancher would be substantial, because he now must buy and keep up individual cages for the animals and must dole out the food cage by cage.

A second benefit discovered during the tranquilizing experiment was that drugged minks require less food to maintain a normal weight because they burn less energy.

The use of reserpine also proved helpful during the mating period, because about 20 per cent of all female minks are snappy with males and can prevent all but the most experienced from mating.

One time-consuming method ranchers use to solve the problem is to tie the mouths of the females. Results was a limited number of animals tested so far indicate that drugs may allow the elimination of the practice.

USED ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS

The drugs were discarded, however, when the research team, joined by Larry Holcomb, also of MSU, went to work on the mating cycle.

The normal breeding time for minks is about March 10. They usually whelp around May 1. The researchers, working on the theory that the length of the day controls hormones that bring the females into heat, began improvising with daylight.

On Dec. 21, 1961, the females were subjected to a Jan. 21 day, with outdoor Christmas tree lights installed on each cage to provide the additional light.

SAVES YOUNG

On February 10, one month early, most of the females were ready for mating. They dropped their young around April 1 instead of May 1.

The advantage is that none of the young, which weigh only 8 to 10 grams at birth, died of exposure.

Many times, Schaible explains, a mother mink will leave some of her young outside during a warm May day, only to have them freeze overnight. In April, however, the days usually are cold and the mother keeps her young close by in the nest, thus preventing freezing.

The researchers now are experimenting with shorter days, keeping a group of females in a house where the length of the "daylight" is one month shorter than usual.

WOULD CUT FOOD COSTS

Feed costs could be trimmed if the experiment is successful, Schaible says, explaining

Minks normally mature by September 15, then must be fed and cared for while their coats prime (take on luster) until approximately the first of December, when they are killed.

If the experiment works, however, the minks will prime as they mature, eliminating one month of feeding.

Ever add a little finely chopped pickle to a liverwurst sandwich filling?

Better Fit, More Comfort In Clothes

Better fit and more comfort in action are advantages promised by the many sportswear and dress fashions on the spring scene.

Shape - retaining stretchability has been imparted to a wide variety of fabrics, in solids and prints. Among them are denim, cotton, knits, sailcloth, twill, seersucker, gabardine and linen. Stretch lace appears for lingerie.

Vertical stretch in stirrup-styled pants remains important but the newer horizontal stretch vastly increases the versatility of the fabrics.

Still another type is two-way stretch, in all nylon.

One use of stretch, seen again and again in spring sportswear collections, is the combination to boldly printed non-stretch with horizontal or vertical stretch pants.

In the stretch, too, are skimmer dresses, skirts, shirts, knit tops, culottes, jackets, pullovers, shorts.

Before you peel that orange grate off a little of the rind and add it to applesauce, canned or homemade.

Missouri Farmers Ship Tons Of Charcoal To City Gourmets

By GENE AYRES

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Far from poolside grills and striped umbrellas, Missouri hill farmers who never charcoal-broiled a steak in their lives are jingling the coins in their overall pockets and hoping the city slickers continue the outdoor buffet boom.

More than 85,000 tons of the carbonized hardwood — about a fifth of the nation's total and the most from any state —come from Missouri hickory and oak forests yearly.

That's enough, allowing a pound of charcoal to cook a pound of meat, to broil all the porterhouse, T-bone and sirloin steaks from a herd of 1.5 million 1,000-pound steers.

These figures are the latest available from the U.S. Forest Service and probably lag a year. The hill man does not rush to the government with up-to-date bulletins on his activities.

CHARCOAL KILNS

But state foresters believe the 400 charcoal cooking kilns of 1961 probably have increased to about 600 now. Production has trebled in the last five years.

Profitable charcoaling needs cheap wood, cheap labor and native ingenuity. All abound in the Missouri Ozarks.

A farmer has a stand of otherwise worthless blackjack or scrub oak which he would like cleared for farming. He may let woodcutters come in and clear it for about 50 cents a cord or he may cut and deliver it to the kilns himself for about $7.50 a cord.

The gentleman in the "Genius At Work" apron asks "What is a cord?"

SIZE OF CORD

It's the amount of wood contained in an eight-foot long, four-foot high stack of four-foot logs.

A cord of good, heavy Missouri wood will produce about 900 pounds of charcoal after it is stacked in a loaf-shaped Ozark kiln, burned under reduced oxygen for about a week, and allowed to cool another week before the doors are opened.

Missourians rejected the round kilns used in the East and concocted their own rectangular version in concrete. Each can take a charge of up to 70 to 80 cords of wood.

Some kiln operators have put heat measuring devices in their ovens but many play it by ear. While the wood is cooking, the skilled kiln man is busy with dampers and trapdoors to regulate air flow and speed up or slow burning in various spots throughout the kiln.

"The old boys could throw a cup of water on the door and tell how hot it was," said John Wylie, assistant state forester. "Half of 'em just spit on it."

Naturally each kiln man thinks his method is best and onlookers are not welcomed.

"You'd think they were Cape Kennedy," Wylie said. "I've been run out of the yards of lots of these people."

That master of marinade, the finicky charcoal chef, will purse his lips and declare that nothing but charcoal in pure chunk form will ever soil his grill.

But 70 per cent of charcoal consumed in America is in the form of briquettes, easy to handle little fuel nuggets.

At Belle, Mo., the Kingsford plant may be the largest briquette manufacturer in the world. The Kingsford people are closemouthed, too, but state foresters estimate the plant's capacity at about 150 tons of briquettes a day.

They buy the raw charcoal, grind it, mix it with a little water and corn starch to make it stick together, then run the mixture through machines which mold it into nugget form. Then it's packaged and sent on its way to the nation's backyards.

GILBERT SENT BACK TO CALIF.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jesse James Gilbert, 38, who was on the FBI's 10 most-wanted-criminals list when he was arrested on a Philadelphia street corner Feb. 26, has been ordered sent back to California where he is wanted on bank holdup and murder charges.

Judge Joseph S. Lord III of U.S. District Court on Wednesday directed that Gilbert be taken back to California after Joseph L. Clark, an employe of an Alhambra, Calif., bank, testified that Gilbert was one of the robbers who held up the Mutual Savings and Loan Association of $11,492 last Jan. 3.

Two men, during the holdup, allegedly killed a policeman in a gun battle. An accomplice was killed while trying to flee.

Besides the Alhambra holdup, Gilbert is charged with three other bank robberies in the San Francisco area. He broke out of the San Quentin prison last year.

Mint Stops Sale Of Proof Sets

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The U.S. Mint, for the second time, has stopped the sale of proof sets which include the Kennedy half dollar, because of heavy demand.

The mint recently announced that it would accept orders again for proof sets, which sell for $2.10 and include a new penny, nickel, dime, quarter and half dollar. The Kennedy coin, which will not be distributed generally until March 24, would be included, the mint said.

The mint here is the only one to sell proof sets, which go to collectors hoping to realize a premium later. In the past two days, 200,000 orders have poured in. The mint, which has a capacity of about four million sets a year, shut off sales in January after receiving orders for 3.9 million sets.

Instructors Want Mixed Sport Teams

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — Two physical education teachers — both women — propose that some intercollegiate athletic teams should be made up of both sexes.

Dr. Betty Hartman, chairman of women's physical education at the University of Connecticut, and Dr. Marion A. Sanborn, a physical education teacher in the Mansfield, Conn., schools, contend that this would make physical education programs more beneficial to all students.

In a book to be published in the spring, the teachers advocate mixing tennis, golf, swimming and volleyball teams, among others.

Share Auditorium With Church Group

NEW YORK (AP) — A church and an experimental dramatic workshop are sharing facilities in a building around the corner from the Broadway theatrical zone.

The thespic venture, called the American Place Theater, was established a year ago to help established writers in other fields test their talent at stagecraft.

Although here is no formal connection between the theater and St. Clement's Protestant Episcopal Church which uses the same auditorium, there is a link. The Rev. Sidney Lanier, the vicar, is codirector of the American Place group.

Worker Peruses Old Glass Hobby

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — As Tulsa's only custom industrial glassblower, Walter Jenkins twists, pulls, bends, pushes and blows glass into an endless array of flasks, condensers and columns for laboratory use.

When he isn't busy producing various sizes, shapes and types of glass used in research work, the 39-year-old man pursues his hobby — making glass novelties, such as figures, vases and animals.

OFFERS FLOOD CONTROL PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Planning funds for a new flood control reservoir in central Pennsylvania will be requested by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Clark said Wednesday he will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee for $200,000 to plan the Blanchard Reservoir during the fiscal year which begins July 1.

This reservoir would be the fourth in a comprehensive flood control network for the West Branch of the Susquehanna River, Clark said. The others are Stevenson and Kettle Creek dams in Clinton County and Curwensville Dam in Clearfield County.

Clark said he will ask Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., the chairman of the subcommittee which handles funds for public works, for the money.

He said flooding along the Susquehanna River emphasized the need of a dam on Bald Eagle Creek near Bellefonte in Center County. On Tuesday night water spilled six feet above flood stage at Lock Haven.

The Blanchard Reservoir would reduce flood conditions there, as well as Williamsport, Jersey Shore, Milton, Lewisburg Sunbury and Harrisburg. All have experienced flooding during the last several days.

Ready Anthology For Broadway Play

NEW YORK (AP) — An anthology of romance, "The Seven Ways of Love," is being readied as the next Broadway vehicle for Joseph Cotten and his wife, Patricia Medina.

The production, to be presented and directed by Paul Gregory, is to have 22 episodes culled from such diverse authorities as Ovid and Norman Mailer. The digest has been prepared by Gregory, Thomas Clapp and George Eels.

Hoe Lasts Gardener More Than 48 Years

MOUNT VERNON, Ark. (AP) — Albert Williams, 75, figures he may have the world's biggest bargain in a hoe.

The one he uses was bought in 1916 for 45 cents.

The blade of the hoe is two inches narrower than it was, from years of sharpening, but it still has its original handle.

Tossed greens make a wonderful lunch salad when they have the addition of anchovies, bacon and hard-cooked eggs. Cut the anchovy filets in small pieces, crumble the crisply cooked bacon and chop the eggs before tossing with the greens and French dressing.

Actors May Try Opera Next Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The Actors Studio Theater may branch into operatic production next.

"Dynamite Tonight," described as an antiwar tract of Weill-Brecht flavor, is being eyed for presentation off-Broadway in the near future. The libretto and lyrics are by Arnold Weinstein, the score by William Bolcom.

The Studio group previously has presented two dramas on Broadway, "Strange Interlude" and "Marathon '33."

SCRANTON IS GIVEN AWARD AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania stands at the threshold of a golden opportunity that could make it the finest state in the nation, Gov. William W. Scranton said Wednesday night.

In accepting the first annual Keystone Award as an outstanding Pennsylvanian from the Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters, Scranton said the state has already weathered its overwhelming employment problems in such fields as steel, railroads and textiles.

Pennsylvania, he said, has all the factors—climate, transportation, resources and people—to embark on one of its finest periods in history.

PRAISES BROADCASTERS

"If we're ready to do the job" he said, "1964 can be the best year for Pennsylvania in centuries."

Scranton also praised the broadcasters for giving central Pennsylvania residents advance warning of the flood threat this week.

The governor said the warning lessened devastation to property and persons. He noted that advance warning in Lock Haven alone meant the evacuation of 1,400 families from threatened areas.

Victor C. Diehm, president of station WAZL, Hazleton, and past president of the association, presented the award to Scranton. Diehm said Pennsylvania has been inspired during the past year by Scranton's attempt to pull it out of the doldrums.

Coal, oil and limestone — essentials of steelmaking — are all of fossil origin. Coal is the compressed remains of vegetable debris of swampy lands; oil, decomposed plants and animals from ancient sea basins; limestone, an accumulation of the skeletons of marine invertebrates.

Bid $122,000 For New Plant

A low bid of $122,000 was presented by the Waynesboro Construction Company to the Emmitsburg town council Monday night for a filtration plant and metal tank reservoir for the new Emmitsburg water system.

The same company presented a bid $10,000 higher for the construction of a concrete reservoir with a filtration plant for $132,000. The second low bidder, the Baltimore Engineering Company, presented a bid of $132,000 for the metal tank reservoir.

The third bid was about the same according to Utilities Commissioner J. Norman Flax. Nine bids in all were presented on the reservoir and filtration plant with the highest one being $158,000.

The Emmitsburg town council did not award the bid Monday night but decided to consider all of the specifications of the nine bidders and to consult with the engineer, Elmer St. Clair Maxwell, to see if the metal tank reservoir is suitable for Emmitsburg and if it would last as long as the concrete reservoir.

RR DEFICIT IS REPORTED

CLEVELAND (AP)—A deficit of $17,115,272 on revenues of $206,003,095 was reported Wednesday by the Erie Lackawanna Railroad for 1963.

Losses for the previous year were $16,608,069, on revenues of $210,945,958, according to the annual report.

The railroad, said William White, chairman, continues to be plagued by a shortage of cash but "we are laying the groundwork for the years ahead."

White said available cash is being spent to improve the condition of equipment and track, even though transportation revenue has not been adequate and company is being forced to defer cash expenditures for desirable purposes.

RCA EXPECTS 3RD YEAR OF RECORD SALES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The president of Radio Corp. of America said today that the electronics - appliance - defense firm expects 1964 to be the third straight year of record profits and sales.

Elmer W. Engstrom, in prepared remarks to the Philadelphia Society of Security Analysts, said RCA this year plans to spend $70 million in capital expenditures, which is 16 per cent more than in any previous year. In 1963 the total was $60 million.

"Our planned investments in 1964 relate to plant and equipment in every division and service of RCA," said Engstrom. "They are intended to maintain the company's earnings momentum in both the traditional and newer areas of RCA growth.

SEE RECORD PROFITS

"Furthermore, we hope that these expenditures will contribute significantly to the continued growth of the national economy, as well as of the electronics industry."

Engstrom said RCA expects first quarter profits to reach record levels this year.

He reported the firm spent about $130 million to develop color television and electronic data processing.

"Color television now contributes more than half of the profits from our entire home instruments business," he said. "Before the end of this year we expect to cross into a profit position in electronic data processing and to maintain profit growth thereafter in this new business."

He said RCA now does only 31 per cent of its business with the government, a drop from 38 per cent in 1961.

HELPING TO DRESS UP NEW SILHOUETTES

Fashion's daytime silhouette for spring is more fitted than it has been for several seasons, yet still not clinging closely to feminine curves. For late-day and evening, prime elements of the look are plunging necklines and fabrics defining the figure.

Now it has been established that women should admit to being shapely, there are flattering styles for all figure types.

Foundation designers have had a great deal to do with making low-cut fashions wearable by more women than ever before.

SMALL BUSTLINE

The small bustline can be maximized by brassieres with wide-set straps and push-up pads in the undercups, while the full bustline can be minimized by bras with princess styling and undercup wiring.

For daytime fashions, a long-line brassiere is an excellent choice, since it molds the midriff as well as shaping the bustline, and the more fitted spring fashions for day wear do stress a smooth midriff.

Belts are more important this season, with the waistline being more often marked at its normal position than hiked upwards to underbust placement or moved downwards to rest on the hipline. Thus waistline control is essential and the high-rise girdle is returning in foundation collections where it recently has been underplayed.

STRETCH STRAPS

Corselets very often have a waist-defining feature as well as an overlay of elastic or bias banding, to slim hips and thighs.

Long line brassieres continue to have elastic waistbands to hold them down over a girdle, and very often they have stretch straps that permit both adjustment to varying necklines and a smooth low fit in back.

Stretch straps are features also of bandeaux, one-piece foundations, and the increasingly popular bra-slips.

Cups are shaped naturally, both in day and evening fashions.

Pantie girdles run the length range from brief to knee-length, mostly in the lightest of fabrics and with the prettiest of ribbon lace and embroidery trimmings.

Both lace and dull satin are favorites of underfashion designers for figure persuasion.

LIGHTING DESKS

Desks and other working areas should always be well-illuminated with lamps properly scaled to size and suited to decor, shedding light in exactly the spot it is needed.

Lamps on end tables should give enough light directed on the book or magazine for easy reading. Switches which give variations of light intensity provide variation when the "activity" is just relaxing or watching television.

Lace looks younger-than-spring-time in a romantic dress with fashion's new beautifully bared neckline.

STRETCH NEW MEN'S FABRIC IS POPULAR

Pessimists who say that men's wear never changes need only look around them at the abundance of lighter and brighter shades, bolder stripes, checks and patterns that are enlivening the masculine world this spring.

And while they're looking, they'll see still another exciting development — it's stretch, real news for men's fashions that is now spreading from shirts and slacks to suits and even rainwear.

Better fit, which means less alteration, comfort at points of stress, and shape retention are just a few of the advantages claimed for stretch fabrics.

SLACKS, SHIRTS

Stretch is used most frequently in slacks and shirts, and is said to give a slimmer, more youthful look as well as neatness and comfort. Stretch lends itself well to the tapered look in shirts and slacks demanded by men today. Shirts don't ride up or bunch, even after hours of wear, manufacturers claim.

The newest innovations in stretch apparel are raincoats and walk-shorts, in new jamaica length, as well as laminated stretch linings, claimed to preserve the shape of the garment. Suits, also, are being introduced in stretch fabrics and are said to eliminate binding and sackiness.

If widespread acceptance of stretch apparel continues, it may become a menswear classic in its own right. More will be on hand for fall.

Sport shirts in both woven and knitted versions appear in a wide range of colors, collars and patterns. Short shirtjackets have taken hold and are made in many varieties.

Quick Reactions In Court Scene

WASHINGTON (AP) — A judge's dismissal of her claim for repairs to a fence drew a fast reaction from Mrs. Florence C. Thomas, 60.

After Judge Edward A. Beard announced his decision, Mrs. Thomas pulled off a shoe and rapped the defendant, Alamo T. Oliphant, on the head.

Judge Beard also reacted fast.

He sentenced Mrs. Thomas to 30 days in jail for contempt.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

THE LOOK'S AT THE FOOT. Shoes set the pace for the complete fashion look. With casual and street clothes continuing on a nonchalant course, head-to-toe blending assumes utmost importance. The zest of a costume depends on it.

On their own, shoes for day wear supply tremendous dash, what with their plunging throatlines, pared sides, bared shanks, sling backs, oval toes and lowered heels. Heels—from midhigh to low, from wineglass to spool—really make shoe fashions run.

Textures and colors further the movement. Beautiful leathers, creamy kids, glowing patents, velvety suedes and elegant reptiles are colored for perfection accessorizing.

Green-tinted beige, camel tones, tortoise and ashy browns point the direction neutrals take. Blues range from pales to light navy. Greens go from acid to cool, aspen shades. Then there's raspberry, fireball red and shiny black, often iced with white.

In making shoe selections, let color cue your thinking. Work for subtle, unexpected harmony between footwear and costumes. To illustrate, here are a few possibilities: Greeny-beige leather walking shoes with a yellow tweed cape; town suedes in aspen green with a grass-green wool suit; tortoise patent slings with a black silk coat dress.

Let your stockings carry the color theme of your shoes—a mere trace—and you'll achieve the look afoot.

PARENTS PASS SEX EDUCATION ON TO OTHERS

WILTON, Conn. (AP) Parents today are too prone to give up their rights and duties to the school, the clergy, physicians and just about anybody who will take over.

That's the opinion of a Connecticut pediatrician who's deeply concerned about today's youngsters.

Dr. Walter X. Lehmann, of Wilton, says especially tragic is the fact that parents are leaving the sex education of their children to others, and it is time they took back their rights for their own good. He elaborates:

"They must communicate the proper attitudes concerning sex to their children from an early age. It can't be done overnight. Young people must be taught that sex is a God-created good thing, know it is normal to have desires, and that they are only complete individuals when they learn to control these desires. Then they can survive more easily without the extra emotional strain that problems connected with sex produce."

NEED TO NOW LOVED

Dr. Lehmann, a pediatrician for 12 years, is one of many doctors now working earnestly in Fairfield County in view of a situation which he thinks is worsening. He says this includes excessive teen-age drinking, sex experimentation, failure to function properly in school, strained relations at home, steady dating, high school dropout and early marriages.

"Every child needs to know that his parents love him unquestioningly, all of the time, for himself alone, just the way he is, even though they may disagree with many of their actions. An this love can't be sloughed off with gifts or a charge account.

"Fancy cars, clothes, big allowances do not imply true love on the parents' part, and children know it. Love implies discipline and limits, and when parents are too permissive, the child interprets it as failure on the parents part to love them," he explains.

HELP CHILDREN

Parents must continually help the child to become a distinct individual apart from themselves, gradually growing more independent, Dr. Lehmann points out. They must have a set of moral standards, a faith to live by.

"Young people must grow emotionally and spiritually as well as intellectually and physically. When youngsters get back on their feet I always ask them what most of all helped them back. Two constant facts emerge: They have found a responsible adult that they trust, admire and want to be like, and have attained a good relationship with God," he says.

Parents should be able to supply both these needs, he says, but they are afraid to trust their own good judgment.

"They are beset on all sides by conflicting information. They read too many articles by so-called authorities, and hence are afraid to reply on their own common sense."

Modern parents are too eager to grow socially and sweep their children into an unreal atmosphere without instilling in them basic attitudes of honesty, loyalty, generosity, truth and self control, he says.

"Children from 5 to 13 just want to be children," Dr. Lehmann points out. "They's rather play with members of their own sex in the backyard than go to dancing schools, and have parlor parties than cavort at the country club which is now the vogue."

HAS 8 CHILDREN

Dr. Lehmann is the father of five boys and three girls, two of them adopted. Two of them are teen-agers 17 and 16.

Dr. Lehmann's interest in the problems of young people stems from his college and camp counselling days He says:

"All the adverse publicity given teen-agers is harmful and the severe delinquent deeds that make the headlines represents only a very small per cent of the youth of today.

"Young people have great capacity for goodness and deep desire to be allowed to put this into action, and a constant need to be loved, understood and guided by the responsible adults in their lives."

It takes longer to report a wreck than to prevent one.

Juvenile Vandals Must Fix Damage

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Five young boys found guilty of stealing and vandalism at the Edward T. Steel Elementary School will help repair the damage, a county court judge has ruled.

Judge J. Sydney Hoffman Wednesday approved the suggestion of school principal Mrs. Mildred F. Miller that the five repaint walls daubed and scrawled with iodine and clean up spilled glue.

They will start the first Saturday after their release from the Youth Rehabilitation Center, to which they were senteneed for two weeks.

The boys are Frank Knight, 12; Edward Moyer, Cedric Lindsey, Nance Johnson and Edward Perry, all 13.

To Begin Delivery Of Buses To Cuba

LYON, France (AP) — The Berliet Company said Wednesday it would begin delivery of $8 million worth of trucks to Communist Cuba within the next few weeks.

Britain's Leyland Motors has contracted to supply $10 million worth of buses to Castro, but has not announced a delivery date.

The United States has protested both sales.

HAPPY NEWS FOR MOTHER OF AF CAPT.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —"Thank God ... its wonderful." This was the reaction of Mrs. Dora Kessler upon hearing the news that her son, an Air Force captain, was alive.

Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, was in a plane shot down by a Russian fighter plane over East Germany Tuesday. His mother was notified Wednesday that he parachuted with the two other members of the crew.

Kessler was instructor-navigator on the unarmed reconnaissance bomber. The others aboard were identified by the Air Force as Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn., the pilot, and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, Detroit, Mich., the navigator.

FAMILY IN MOURNING

The news of the incident reached the captain's family while they were in mourning for Mrs. Kessler's father, Benjamin Klein.

Kessler, a graduate of Philadelphia's Olney High School in 1950, entered the Air Force as a private and reached the rank of captain in January, 1963.

He and his German-born wife, Zige, live at Toulaire, France, near the air force base, with their two children, a son, 10, and a daughter, 3.

His father, Abraham, is employed as a technician at the Philadelphia Naval Yard.

MAN ANGRY OVER HAIRCUT, STABS BARBER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A man who complained about the haircut given him two weeks ago fatally stabbed the barber Wednesday, according to authorities.

Police said Joseph Margel, 35, was overpowered by three officers a short time after the murder.

The victim was Angelo Fontanazza, 52, who has operated his one-chair barber shop for 12 years, just outside the downtown district.

Police said Margel told them he "was mad at him (Fontanazza) for having given him a bad haircut ... two weeks ago."

The body was discovered by Joseph Steele, a postman, who said he entered the shop and saw Fontanazza lying on the floor and a man standing over him. The man ran out, and Steele notified a policeman, who gave chase.

PRINT IKE MEMOIR

MOSCOW (AP) — The magazine World Economy and International Relations has begun to print some chapters of the memoirs of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Soviet news agency Tass announced Wednesday night.

Almost nothing about President Eisenhower has been printed in the Soviet Union since the blowup of the four-power conference in Paris following the U2 flight into the Soviet Union in 1960.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Firemen Safer Without Pole

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa's new central fire station won't have a pole for firemen to slide down. The reason — too many firemen get hurt sliding, Fire Chief G. L. Sartain said. All living quarters will be the first floor.

Sartain said the second story living quarters — and the pole to the ground floor — originated in the days when horses were stabled on the first floor.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Race driver Jack Turner told a high school group here that he feels safer driving in the Indianapolis 500-mile race than on a highway. At Indianapolis, he explained, there are "33 competent drivers, all going the same direction at about the same speed. There are all left hand turns and no intersections."

Sportswear Is Blazing With Variety Of Colors

Sportswear blazes with color and sparkles with variety for spring 1964. There are the pale and pretty pastels. There are bold, brilliant shades. There are prints, from neat and demure to big and vivid — striking combinations of such shades as purple, yellow, red.

There are muted hues, such as the grays and grayed greens. There is white, shining forth in shades from snowy to almost-beige.

As for the range of styles, the word "sportswear" continues to encompass an amazing diversity. It includes, as the word implies, fashions for active sports, but that doesn't begin to tell the story. Costumes and costume components for any and all occasions come from sportswear departments — casual and no-so-casual dresses, coordinates of every imaginable kind, skirts, jackets, blouses from strictly tailored to frilly and feminine, knits, jumpers, pants — everything to put together a complete spring wardrobe.

3-PART COSTUMES

A particular favorite among coordinates this season is the three-part costume, composed of skirt, blouses and jacket or weskit, often in contrasting colors or in stripes or other prints combined with solids.

Two-part outfits, too, make a strong showing. Dresses take toppings from weskits to sweaters to jackets. Jumpers become dresses, frequently in shift or skimmer styles, but they have their own blouses so that they can also be coordinates.

A favorite jacket is the blazer, with new softer styling. Important Chanel-look jackets take on added ease, and sometimes they are ruffled.

Ruffles and flounces are a prevailing them in latest sportswear. Cascades of organdy or eyelet adorn blouses designed for a young, feminine spring. Lots of lace, supple cowl collars, bows and poufs carry out the ladylike mood in dresses and coordinates.

INCLUDE PETTIS

Some combinations include their own petticoats or pettipants — lace, embroidery or dainty prints to peek through a wrap skirt or side-slit dress.

Stretch fabrics are a sportswear story in themselves. Stretch cotton, denim, knits, sailcloth and stretch fabrics of every type appear in skirts, shirts, tops, pants, culottes, shifts and jackets.

The idea of sportswear for active living is fully developed. There are groups of coordinates designed specifically for sports such as golfing, bowling, tennis, sailing. One group of tennis separates is composed of tennis dress, pleated skirt, shorts and top, and an after-the-game blazer.

PRETTY LOOK LIKED

The ski influence continues and is transformed into "after water-ski" fashions. These include parka-like shirts, jackets and turtleneck tops.

Not-so-casual dresses favor the soft, pretty look, with more feminine detailing for the shift, the skimmer, the A-line. Smocked empire "baby dress" styles and long torso types with flounced hemlines get fashion attention.

SPRING'S NEW FURNITURE IS MORE FEMININE

Furniture is becoming more feminine this spring, exhibiting a softer profile and subtly flowing curves.

Designers have looked to the East for inspiration, with Oriental rivaling the Mediterranean influence in popularity. Italian styles are still prominent, but they are less cluttered and more classic in line. English designs are inspired by the manor house rather than the country pub.

PERENNIAL FAVORITES

Two perennial favorites will still be seen in quantity in local furniture stores. French Provincial and Early American styles have a warmth that millions of American homemakers find appealing. And wise manufacturers know enough to maintain a good supply of something that remains so much in demand.

Over - size chairs and sofas are very much in evidence in 1964 styles, a boon to the masculine side of the family. Seats are deeper and lounge chairs are pitched so that an ottoman is added almost automatically for the man of the house to relax in "feet up" comfort.

For the distaff side, there is the chaise longue — now styled for use in the living room rather than the boudoir. But regardless of where it is, the chaise still makes a woman feel delightfully pampered, even if she can only relax on it a half hour hour or so after a busy day.

SLEEK LOOK

The sharp-lined sleek look that foam rubber cushioning introduced to modern decor is now being transformed to deeper, softer seating. Cushioning is tufted or channeled to provide a feeling of sink-in luxury. And squashy oversize back pillows are often added to both sofa and lounge chairs.

FOR BOUYANT COMFORT

Thanks to the versatility of latex foam, it still remains the number one cushioning in spite of these fashion changes. And as a result, its buoyant comfort is found in both traditional and modern designs — even in French Provincial and Early American.

Over-size plaids and floral prints in upholstery fabrics are in keeping with spring's scaled-up design. Sometimes there are two fabrics mixed on one lounge chair — such as a plain-colored wool with a bold plaid in coordinating shades.

English chintz is back — often with a giant pattern on a dark-shaded background. And in the midst of such flamboyance, there are serene neutral colors to provide a soothing contrast. Pale chamois, sagebrush and pale gray slubbed with black and white are seen.

Native woods, such as oiled or weathered pecan, are used more and more in the new contemporary lines. And in the traditional or period styles wood finishes have gained a natural look — closer to the grain and more weathered.

17-YEAR-OLD 'COPTER PILOT AIMS AT SPACE

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Flying is a profession for some and a hobby for others, but for Diana Dorr — who just became one of the nation's youngest helicopter pilots — it's a ball.

Miss Dorr, 17, soloed after nine hours of helicopter training, and says, "Flying a helicopter is the most satisfying experience of my life, to date."

"To date" is right, because Miss Dorr has set her sights on being a lady astronaut. But, she says "I don't know how I'm going to beat that jet flying time qualification."

Diana, of course, hasn't limited her flying to helicopters. She has her private license and is licensed to fly multi-engine craft, and even holds a license to fly hot-air balloons — though she's never even seen one.

"I got the balloon license for fun. I just applied for the thing and got it."

FLYING FAMILY

An incentive for learning to fly is provided by her father, who was a pilot during the war. The family usually goes on flying vacations in their own multi-engine craft.

"The rest of my family is now in Idaho, where they plan to take a boat trip down the Salmon River. We often take flying vacations to places like Mexico and Idaho," Diana explains.

Her mother flies too and has her private license.

What about the rest of the family?

"Well, my oldest brother, Johnny, is 14, and really wants to fly, but he isn't old enough to get a license yet. He'll probably begin learning when he's 15, and be ready for the license by the time he's 16," Diana says. Her three other brothers, Danny, 11, and Kenny and Donny, 5, have shown no interest in learning to fly. They probably will someday, though.

Diana's activities aren't however, limited to flying. During summer vacation she's working for International Business Machines Corp., where her father works. She also finds time for skin diving and sewing.

Political campaign buttons, now making their appearance in advance of the November election, go back at least to the reign of Alexander the Great in the 4th Century B.C. The Macedonian ruler sent silver buttons to constituents, seeking their sympathetic support.
